BRYAN AND WILSON STUDYING REPORTS

Will Get Facts Before Announcing Policy Toward Mexico

SITUATION NOW NOT ACUTE

Ambassador Wilson Will Appear Before Foreign Relations Committee of Senate Today—No Mediation Proposed.

Washington, July 29.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan devoted themselves to a study of the voluminous reports at their disposal of conditions in Mexico. Indications were that with the appearance before the Senate committee on Foreign Relations tomorrow of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, the last stage in the programme of the administration to discover the facts of the situation before announcing a policy would be reached.

While a resolution in the House called for a joint committee to obtain documents in the Mexican situation and another in the Senate sought the opinion of that body on the question of recognizing the belligerency of the constitutionalists, administration officials again declared there would be no haste in formulating a definite policy toward Mexico.

Secretary Bryan stated that no proposition for mediation had been submitted to either of the two factions in Mexico, and incidentally remarked that he might go back to the lecture platform in a few days. The present condition of affairs is not considered acute here.

The development of a policy by the United States may be delayed to observe the outcome of efforts being made by leading Mexicans to bring about an understanding between the two warring factions.

Policy Proposed.

Some administration officials have proposed that the American policy be pursued along a succession of alternatives:

First, they suggest the United States should refrain from interference while the Mexican leaders themselves endeavor to compose their differences. The attitude of the United States against recognizing the Huerta administration already is being outlined in Mexico, according to reports here, as indicating that the abdicating of Huerta in favor of a compromise provisional president is inevitable.

Second, should all efforts by the Mexicans to adjust the dispute fail, it is proposed by influential members of the Senate, that the embargo on arms be lifted and the two factions be permitted to obtain munitions of war on an equality. Some Senators freely predict a decisive result in quick time under those conditions.

Third, Should peace be delayed, the suggestion is that the United States offer to mediate through a commission.

Fourth, as a last resort, it is suggested that a tri-partite commission composed of representatives of the United States and Latin-American nations could endeavor to bring about a settlement by peaceful means.

Declaration of President Huerta.

A declaration from President Huerta that no American in Mexico shall suffer injustice or violence "with his cognizance" was made public by the State Department today in the following announcement:

"President Huerta has expressed himself as regretting very much that the American government should ascribe to the influence of the Mexican government any action which might be construed as antagonistic to Americans during his occupancy of the executive authority and desires the State Department to be assured that no injustice or violence shall be done to Americans with his cognizance while he is in his present position.

"The Mexican consul at El Paso has informed the Mexican foreign office that the matter of the shooting of Dixon has been satisfactorily arranged and it is stated that the government at Mexico City seems most desirous of meeting the desires of the United States in every way possible."

Reports to the State Department today said that Carlos Pereyra, who has been acting Secretary of State since July 10th, pending the arrival of the newly appointed secretary, Frederic Gamboa, left office today and in the interval before August 7th, when Secretary Gamboa will take office, the portfolio of foreign affairs will be held by the present minister of public instruction, Dr. Garza Aldape. The latter has spent some time in the United States and State Department officials said that he was in sympathy with American institutions.

American Fears Allayed.

Commander Kittile, of the gunboat Wheeling, reported from Fetonera that American fears there have been allayed by the arrival of 400 Mexican Federal troops who are driving the rebels awoy from the city. Admiral Fletcher, commanding the American squadron in the Gulf of Mexico, reported that he intended to order the gunboat Wheeling to visit Puerto Mexico, Vera Cruz State, Campeche, in Tabasco, and Progreso, in Yucatan, to observe conditions as they affect Americans and other foreigners in these ports. Rear Admiral Cowles, commanding the Pacific squadron, reported that he had observed an aeroplane flying over Guaymas harbor evidently trying to drop a bomb on the Mexican Federal gunboat Tampico. However, he did not verify unofficial reports that the Tampico had been destroyed by the aeronaut.

STATE DEBT PLAN SUGGESTED

West Virginia Might Cede Territory to Virginia—Inhabitants of Territory Involved Favor Plan as Now

Library of Congress

Martinsburg, W. Va., July 29.—Leading residents of the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia, embracing the counties of Jefferson, Berkeley, and Morgan, have within the past few days become aware that the proposition for West Virginia to "square" the old Virgina debt case by ceding to the mother State several of the eastern border counties is being seriously considered by certain interests in this State, and discussion of the "deal" is rapidly coming to the seething point throughout this section.

It is reported that two separate propositions of the same character are being considered—one involving the counties of Greenbrier, in which is located the White Sulphur Springs resort, owned by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Company; Monroe, Summers and Mercer, and the other proposition involving the counties of Jefferson, Berkeley, Morgan, Hampshire and Hardy.

It was further stated that the former proposition had its inception with high officials of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, and that they were influenced to take a hand in the "deal" by reason of the fact that if Greenbrier county remains in West Virginia their White Sulpnur Springs resort, where many million dollars have adn are being invested, will after July 30, 1914, be in territory as "dry as a bone" under the most drastic prohibition law ever passed by a State.

As is well known, the United States Supreme Court some months ago decided the old debt contorversy in favor of Virginia, fixing West Virginia's liability at $7,150,000. The question of interest wast left to a mutual agreement between the States. This interest, running for 50 years, would bring West Virginia's indebtedness to the mother State to approximately $20,000,000 at the present time. It has been suggested that this amount, with interest at 4 per cent, be paid off in 30 years, and this would mean that West Virginia would be compelled to pay to the holders of the old bonds the staggering sum of more than $30,000,000, principal and interest. Heavy taxpayers among the individuals, firms, and corporations of the State do not view this prospect with any degree of complacency, and if this vast debt could be discharged without any cost to them, it would be a most desirable arrangement as they see it.

But nowhere is the proposition meeting with more hearty support than among the residents of the counties that would be directly effected by the "deal." It is a well-known fact that a number of the eastern border counties of this State would rather be, by every argument of geographical location, tradition and sympathy, a part o fthe old Commonwealth than remain in West Virginia. This sentiment is particularly pronounced in the counties of Jefferson, Hampshire, Hardy and Greenbrier, and exists in a lesser degree in Berkeley county. The majority of the people of Morgan county would be unalterably opposed to any proposition involving her transfer to Virginia.

But it is urged by many residents of this section that the Eastern Panhandle and the adjacent counties have never been more than political nonentities, ever sitting below the salt at the political feasts of the State, and long years of this treatment has served to breed rancor, disappointment and resentment among the people of this section. It is declared that were such a proposition left to the people of the counties mentioned, it would be ratified by an overwhelming majority; and it is also believed that if the "deal" should ever come to a vote of the people of the whole state, it would likewise be ratified—such an election serving the double purpose of discharging a staggering debt and of getting rid of several counties that have the disconcerting habit of returning heavy Democratic majorities at political elections.

There are also many opponents of the proposition, however—men who admit their sympathy for the mother State, but who declare that, while it might have been a grave political mistake when the affected counties cast their lot with the new Commonwealth, it would be an even greater mistake now to return to Virginia.

It is declared by those who have looked into the matter that, of the two propositions, the second one, involving Jefferson, Berkeley, Morgan, Hampshire and Hardy counties, has appealed more strongly to Virginia than the proposition put forward to cede Greenbrier and adjoining counties. A vigorous fight, having several corners, is confidently expected when the time is ripe for the formal proposition to be brought forth.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Beaufort County Farmer Stricken as He Ran to House

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., July 29.—Word was received here this morning that Elijah Lewis, son of Bartemus Lewis, of Blount's Creek, was struck by lightning and killed in an electrical storm. Lewis was in the barn at the time the storm came up and was feeding his horses and mules. After his work had been completed he started to run back to the house, when, about 30 feet away from the barn, the lightning struck him. He was found later by his grandfather, who becoming anxious over his long absence, had started out to search for him.

He found the body stretched out on the ground. At the same time that Lewis was struck the barn was also hit by lightning. One mule was wounded and will probably die, and another was hurt by splinters a large number of which penetrated through the animal's hide.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 29.—One hundred and twenty-two fire insurance companies elfid in the State Supreme Court today their answer to the quo warranto proceedings instituted by the Attorney General. The companies denied that they had conspired to leave the State and said their individual withdrawals were voluntary.

REFUSE TO HASTEN WORK ON TARIFF

The Republican Members in No Mood to Be Forced

POINT RAISES DISCUSSION

Minority Objects to Democratic Plans for Currency Legislation During the Present Session—Some Schedules Considered

Washington, July 29.—Republican Senators made it clear today that they do not propose to hasten consideration of the tariff bill if the President and Democratic leaders of Congress are going to insist upon the enactment of currency legislation at this session. Senator Gallinger declared that the Republicans were in no temper to be forced and Senator Lodge insisted that assurances of a prolonged hot Summer session would not be conducive to hastening the tariff act on.

Discussion on this point arose when Senator Gallinger sought information as to the intent of the Democrats. Senator Simmons said he hoped that the Republicans were not making threats to purposely delay passage of the tariff, which all business interests wanted settled speedily. Republican Senators assured him that they were making no threats, but that it was bound to follow that there would be little haste with the tariff unless an early adjournment should be the inducement therefor.

Senator Gallinger said that reading in the morning papers every day that the President would insist on holding Congress here to enact currency legislation would not speed up action on the tariff. Senator Lodge added that it was most unwise to demand action on such important legislation as the currency of a tired out Congress.

Progressive reports disclaimed any intention to delay voting on the tariff unnecessarily, despite what else might be in store. Senator Borah declaring that statements to the contrary from other sources did not express the view of all on the minority side.

Following an attack upon the bill by Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, little progress was made in consideration of the earthenware schedule, several hours being occupied in discussing the rates on pummice stone and flourspar.

While the Senate was considering the earthenware and glassware schedule today, Senator Bristow complained because the bill decreased the duty on unmanufactured pummice stone about 75 per cent and on manufactured pummice stone only about 30 per cent. Senator Simmons said the reduction was made to bring about competition.

Senator Bradley, of Kentucky, sought to increase the rate on flourspar from $1.50 to $3 per ton. Flourspar, he said, existed in sufficient quantity in Kentucky and Illinois to last for several decades, but huge deposits had been discovered in England and the product was being shipped over here at nominal rates, threatening the destruction of this business in America.

Senator Simmons said the local producers added the present duty of $3 per ton and the freight of $1 a ton to the domestic price, which he thought was asking the American people who use flourspar to pay too much.

Doesn't Believe Craig Will Accept

Washington, D. C., July 19.—Thomas J. Gold, of High Point, said today that he does not believe Governor Craig will accept the tentative offer made by the railroads to settle the freight rate controversy. Mr. Gold believes the matter will go before the Legislature and he is certain that body will pass laws affecting intra-State rates and perhaps other drastic legislation affecting the railroads.

Mr. Gold and Robert Lee Pickett came here today, it is said, in the interest of Mr. Pickett's candidacy for the postmastership at High Point.

DeLeon Carlton, of North Carolina, has been appointed assistant attorney in the office of the attorney general for the Postoffice Department. He will receive a salary of $2,000 a year.

Mrs. W. H. Osborn, who has been in a hospital at Baltimore for three weeks, will return to Washington Wednesday and leave for Greensboro the latter part of the week. Mrs. Osborn will go to Mt. Airy at an early date and open up her Summer cottage. P. R. A.

AFRICAN CHIEF IN COLLEGE

Enters Harvard to Learn to Put Language in Writing

Cambridge, Mass., July 28.—A full-blooded African chieftain has just passed his entrance examinations at Harvard with flying colors and will enter the university next September as a member of the class of 1917. He is P. Gbe Wolo, and his people, 300,000 strong, are the Krus of Liberia, on the west coast of Africa. They have no written language, so that the only way he can communicate with his family is through traders on the coast who send the message by word of mouth along the trail. He has begun the stupendous task of reducing his language to writing.

FRANK'S TRIAL CONTINUES

Second Day of Phagan Murder Trial Devoid of Sensational Features. State Introduces Three Witnesses.

Atlanta, Ga., July 29.—Marked by frequent clashes between lawyers for the State and the defense ,the second day of the trial of Leo M. Frank, former superintendent of a local pencil factory, for the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan, was devoid of new or interesting features.

Three witnesses were introduced by the State during the day, these being the negro Newt Lee, watchman at the factory, who discovered the girl's body secreted in the basement; a sergeant of police, and a member of the city detective force. The officers testified to conditions as they found them in the factory basement when they were summoned by the negro Lee. There was nothing in the evidence introduced today that differed in a material way from testimony offered at the preliminary hearings.

It had been expected that Solicitor General Dorsey would uncover some of the so-called "secret evidence" which was reported to be in his possession, but the day passed without intimation of such a course being contemplated by the State. It was stated tonight by lawyers interested in the case tha he trial might take much longer than at first expected. Of 26 witnesses on the State's list only five have been examined, while the list submitted by the defense contained 100 names.

Detective J. M. Starnes, who was on the stand when court adjourned at 4:55 P. M., will resume his testimony when the trial opens at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

CONGRESS CONDENSED.

Brief Summary of the Day's Work in the House and Senate.

Washington, July 29.—Senate: Met at noon and resumed discussion of tariff bill.

Democratic House Leader Underwood before lobby investigating committee declared Martin M. Mulhall to be a "liar and blackmailer."

Foreign Relations committee discussed Nicaraguan protectorate treaty, Senator Borah and Senator Clark taking pronounced stand against policy involved.

Senator Brandegee asked for passage of joint resolution fixing date when new duties on wool and woolen products shall go into effect.

On motion of Senator Gallinger Senate struck from Congressional Record an article put in by Senator Tillman and which Senator Gallinger characterized as an insult to Northern women.

President submitted several nominations for confirmation.

Senator Sheppard introduced resolution asking foreign relations committee to advise Senate if Mexican belligerents should be recognized.

Senator Johnston (Alabama) introduced resolution offering $100,000 reward for discovery of effective remedy to destroy boll weevil.

Senator Sterling spoke against the tariff bill.

House: Met at noon.

Representative Henry, in a statement demanded investigation of charges at New York bankers had organized to depreciate price of government 2 per cent bonds.

Filibuster of Republican Leader Mann ended a debate on the Caminetti-Diggs white slave case resolution began.

Representative Stephens, of Texas, introduced resolution for joint Congressional committee of ten to investigate Mexican conditions.

ANOTHER JAPANESE NOTE

Communication of California Law En Route to Washington

Washington, July 28.—Still another note from Japan in connection with the Japanese alien law is on its way to Washington. This is a reply to the last American communication which administration officials here had believed would close the negotiations at least until the California law became operative and a test case could be carried to the courts.

Secretary Bryan said today he had learned that the note was coming, but had no idea of what it might contain.

Japan's contention that the California law violates treaty violations as well as infringes upon the rights of Japanese under the broad principles of international law was replied to at length in the last American note and State Department officials hoped that the Mikado's government had been convinced that nothing further could be done until occasion arose for a test of the law in the courts.

Tacoma, Wash., July 29—Two sharp earthquake shocks, covering an area of more than 100 square miles, were felt here today and created alarm. The disturbances lasting about half a minute each, were most strongly felt at Ashford and LaGrande.

OUTLINES

The Republican Senators announce that they do not propose to hasten consideration of the tariff bill if Democrats continue to insist upon currency legislation during the present session.

The American ambassador from Mexico will appear today before the Foreign Relations committee of the Senate when the Mexican situation will be discussed.

Criticism and defense of the attitude of Attorney General McReynolds and the administration toward the California White Slave cases, marked five hours of spirited debate in the House yesterday.

M. M. Mulhall, has practically finished his identification of letters he wrote and received during his career as lobbyist.

Another note from Japan in connection with the California alien law is on its way to Washington.

Dispatches from London announce that the ambassadorial conference has settled the status of New Albania.

Money on call steady 2 to 2 1-2 per cent; ruling rate 2 1-2; closing bid 2; offered at 2 1-4. Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands 12.10; middling gulf 12.35; sales none.

CHAIRMAN HENRY DEMANDS INQUIRY

Would Investigate Charges of Secretary McAdoo Regarding Banks

THE MARKETS MANIPULATED

Chairman of House Rules Committee Thinks Treasury Official Should Explain Charges Preferred Against Banks.

Washington, July 29.—An investigation of the charges of Secretary McAdoo, of the Treasury Department that New York bankers had organized a campaign to depreciate the price of government 2 per cent bonds on which the present currency is based, was demanded in a statement issued today by Chairman Henry, of the House Rules committee.

Chairman Glass, of the House Banking committee, declared that the committee was fully occupied considering the administration currency bill and that it did not propose to be diverted from its purpose.

Mr. Glass and other members of the committee, however, declared they shared the opinion of Secretary McAdoo as to the reasons for the depression in the price of the 2 per cent bonds. The statement issued by Representative Henry was in part as follows:

"The Secretary of the Treasury should be summoned before the committee on Banking and Currency instanter and reveal the facts to the American people, as their agent and the head of every great bank in New York should be sent for at the earliest possible moment, placed upon the stand before the Banking and Currency committee and grilled most thoroughly in order that the American people may know the exact facts about this controversy.

"The Secretary can and doubtless will demonstrate exactly how these gentlemen manipulate the market, put up and down prices of United States bonds and control the financial destinies of the American people."

Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts, a Republican member of the Senate committee on Banking and Currency, today attacked Secretary McAdoo for his charge that the banks had depressed the price of 2 per cent bonds, and demanded that he make public the information on which he based the charge.

The Democrats of the House Banking and Currency committee struggled along today with the consideration of the administration bill. Representative Bulkeley, of Ohio, continued his attack on the broad powers conferred by the bill on the proposed Federal reserve board. By a vote of 8 to 3 the committee declined to adopt an amendment, striking out the section of the bill allowing the board to suspend the reserve requirements of the bill for periods of 30 days and to renew such suspensions for 15 day periods.

Representative Bulkeley also proposed an amendment providing for a graduated tax on banks as a penalty for allowing their reserves to fall below the required percentage, but this, also was rejected.

London, July 29.—A dispatch from Santiago, Chile, to the Havas News Agency reports a great catastrophe at Lima, Peru. All wires between Chile and Peru are cut and it has not yet been possible to obtain details.

Fatal Accident on Central Highway

Raleigh, N. C., July 29.—The Central highway automobile touring party arrived here more than three hours late on account of an accident to a Burlington, N. C. automobile party that occurred near Durham and may prove fatal. Albert Kernodle and J. W. Cates, of Burlington, were probably fatally injured by their car turning turtle in a collision with a tree at high speed. The two injured men are at Durham for treatment.

The car had gone out to meet the Central highway party when the accident occurred. The Central highway party was due here at noon and arrived about 3:30, hurrying on for Goldsboro after a very brief stop. Members of the party are well pleased with the Central highway developments as they have observed them in their trip, which ends at Morehead tomorrow, where they are to attend the State convention of the association of good roads for North Carolina.

FAMILY SHOT.

Farmer, His Wife and Two Children Found Dead.

Rumsey, Alberta, Canada, July 28.—George Robinson, his wife and two children were found shot to death in their farm house near here today. The bodies of Robinson and his youngest child, a 3-year-old girl, were in one room; his wife and 12-year-old son were in another.

There was a shot gun across Robinson's body and three empty shells lay on the floor nearby. The house showed evidences of a fierce struggle.

The police have not determined whether the family was attacked or whether it was a case of suicide and murder.

SPIRITED POLITICAL DEBATE

Attitude of Attorney General McReynolds in the White Slave Cases Criticised and Defended by House Members.

Washington, July 29.—Vigorous criticism and determined defense of the attitude of Attorney General McReynolds and the administration in the Caminetti-Diggs white slave cases marked five hours of political debate in the House today.

Representative Kahn, of California, declared that "insidious political influence" had something to do with the postponement of the cases in California, and Chairman Clayton, of the House Judiciary committee, in a spirited defense of the attorney general said the attacks growing out of the Caminetti case were a part of a general "conspiracy of the special interests to discredit an honest public official."

Chairman Clayton declared the "special interests" were instigating the attacks on the Attorney General because of his fearless prosecution of all offenders, high and low." As an instance of these attacks he put into the record a newspaper article which set forth that the Attorney General had issued instructions to United States attorneys not to proceed under the Mann white slave act except in cases where the offenders profited commercially from the transactions. Representative Clayton read a vigorous denial of this article in an official statement from the Attorney General.

"The gentleman from California," said Mr. Clayton, shaking his finger at Representative Kahn, "is an innocent accessory to the conspiracy to discredit a public official of unimpeachable integrity and undoubted honesty."

Republicans, Progressives and Democrats generally joined in the debate, the Democrats defending the administration and decrying the attempts of "muck rakers" to discredit public officials.

The debate, forced by the Republican filibuster which tied up all business in the House throughout last week, followed the presentation of a report from the Judiciary committee recommending that a resolution of Representative Kahn, calling on the Attorney General for a telegram relating to the cases be laid upon the table, as the data asked for had been furnished.

When the House adjourned tonight the five hours' debate on the resolution had not been exhausted and the discussion will be renewed when the House meets Wednesday.

VALUABLE GEMS STOLEN

The Rumsey Home Robbed of $75,000 Worth of Jewels

New York, July 29.—Gems valued at $75,000 including a rope of pearls worth $60,000 were stolen from the home of C. C. Rumsey, at Narragansett iPer during the 24 hours ending Sunday night. Mrs. Rumsey was a daughter of the late E. H. Harriman. The theft was made known today.

The rope of pearls was given to Mrs. Rumsey by her mother and had a sentimental value far in excess of its intrinsic worth. Other jewels stolen include the following:

Ruby and pearl pendant.

Gold pin, set with magnificent ruby salitaire.

Diamond broach.

Gold mesh bag.

Mrs. Rumsey's home was entered some time between 8 o'clock Saturday night and the same hour Sunday.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., July 29.—The jewel robbery at the Summer home of C. C. Rumsey, a member of the Cooperstown polo team, was reported to the local police last Sunday, but, on tht solicitation of Mr. Rumsey, it was kept quiet and no one went to the House to investigate until last night. Mr. Rumsey refused to have a police officer to visit his home Sunday evening, but yesterday consented, and B. Ahrens, a constable, remained on watch all night. The police, as well as private detectives, have been at work on the case.

It is the belief of Mr. Rumsey and Chief of Police Caswell that the robber entered by the front door and stole the gems last Saturday night, while Mr. and Mrs. Rumsey were at the Casino. Private detectives working on the theft believe that an organ grinder who loitered about the house during the morning and afternoon preceding the robbery, may have been laying plans for the robbery. Mrs. Rumsey kept her jewels in an unlocked drawer of her bureau and the doors and windows of the house usually were left unfastened day and night. The jewels were in their accustomed place when Mrs. Rumsey dressed for dinner Saturday evening, and were not there the next night. The rope of pearls contained 130 graduated gems, the largest weighing 21 grains.

The local police have long believed that a gang of expert robbers was systematically "working" this place, disposing of their booty through a "fence" in Boston.

NEW COTTON FOR SAVANNAH.

Two Bales Are Expected at That Port Today.

Savannah, Ga., July 29.—Savannah is expecting today to get the two first bales of new crop cotton.

Messrs. Hunter, Peace and Batey were advised by telegraph todav that T. J. Smith, of McRae, had yesterday ginned the first bale and that Smith & Aiken were shipping it here. Messars. Hunter & Company were advised about the same time that the first bale of the staple grown at Albany by Frank Thomas, a negro, had been expressed.

The two bales will be offered at auction simultaneously at the Cotton Exchange.

WILL OF COFFEE KING.

Left Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars to Employes.

Chicago, July 29.—One hundred and fifty employes of a coffee firm with offices at Boston, Montreal and Chicago, will receive $250,000 under the will of Charles D. Sias, senior member of the firm, which was probated yesterdav. Bequests range from $300 to $2,000, every employe who had been with the company for a year receiving at least the smaller sum. Widows of five traveling salesmen will receive $2,500 each.

AN EXCITING DAY IN THE LOBBY INQUIRY

Mulhall Has Practically Finished His Identification of Letters

UNDERWOOD CALLS HIM A LIAR

Ex-Lobbyist Swears McDermott Forged Check for $250—Lawyers and Senators to Cross-examine Mulhall Today

Washington, July 29.—Martin M. Mulhall practically finished today his identification of letters he wrote and received in the ten years he claims to have been the lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers.

Tomorrow the Senate Investigating Committee will turn its attention to examination of Mulhall, and attorneys for the association and for the American Federation of Labor, also involved in the correspondence, will begin cross-examination.

Members of the committee will attempt to strengthen Mulhall's story of his political activities in Washington and throughout the country while the attorneys will endeavor to break it down. Questions by the lawyers under the committee's rule will be filtered to the witness through its chairman.

Robert McCarter counsel for the association, has about 250 questions he wishes to ask the witness; Attorney Jackson H. Ralston, for the American Federation of Labor, has prepared about 100 more, and no one knows how many separate questions members of the committee will submit to Mulhall before he is allowed to quit the witness chair in the Senate wing of the capitol, and face the special House committee that is eagerly awaiting his appearance across the rotunda.

Mulhall's last day as an identifier of letters proved the most exciting of his two weeks on the stand. He was called a "liar," and a "blackmailer" by Majority Leader Underwood, of the House, and he swore he had tried to get Chairman Wilson, of the Labor committee interested in the story he is now telling and that Speaker Clark and Minority Leader Mann, of the House, had turned down an opportunity to conduct an investigation of his activities. The Speaker and Mr. Mann, he said, had been approached on this subject by Representative James T. McDermott, of Illinois.

"Neither Mr. McDermott nor anybody else ever showed me the Mulhall letters and papers," said Speaker Clark in a statement issued late today.

"Neither Mr. McDermott nor anybody else ever spoke to me about them. I never knew that Mulhall had any letters or papers until I saw in a newspaper that he had sold them to a New York paper."

Mulhall brought the day to a climax by swearing that McDermott had acknowledged to him that he had signed Mulhall's name to a check for $250.

Mulhall made the statement when he was questioned about a trip to Chicago in April, 1912, to help McDermott in the primaries. He said Harold F. McCormick, son-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, had promised to contribute $250 to the McDermott campaign. He said McCormick made out a check to him for this amount, but that he did not receive it until after he returned to Baltimore. He cashed this check in Baltimore, but later the bank there and the one in Chicago, on which it was drawn, informed him that a duplicate bearing his signature had been honored also. He told the committee he never knew what had happened until McDermott told him.

Senator Cummins tried to keep discussion of the check out of the record. He said that the question of whether McDermott had signed Mulhall's name was not pertinent to the committee's investigation, but Mulhall's testimony and the correspondence on the matter were allowed to go in. A letter read later showed that Mulhall took the $250 given by McCormick and used it himself, although he said McCormick had given it for the McDermott campaign. Mulhall explained that he had spent a lot of money in Chicago and that McDermott had never paid him back.

Mulhall told during the day that he left the National Association of Manufacturers late in 1911, but letters of 1912 and 1913 showed him still about Washington interested in the make-up of committees and in legislation. He apparently was lobbying on his own hook and other letters showed an evident desire to get back with his old employers, although he did not admit that he wished to secure his old berth.

One of the last letters put in the record was dated May 26th, 1913, and addressed to Former Representative James E. Watson, of Indiana, whom Mulhall frequently during the inquiry has mentioned in terms far from flattering. In this letter Mulhall asked Watson to interest himself with D. M. Parry, former president of the association in his behalf. It was only a few days later that the Senate committee started its lobby investigation and that he began to negotiate for the disposal of his correspondence.

After he left the organization Mulhall wrote letters indicating an intention to fight James A. Emery, Washington counsel for association, and J. P. Bird, general manager, and other officials.

NO TROUBLE IN PERU.

London Report of Catastrophe Entirely Lacking Foundation.

Lima, Peru, July 29.—There is no truth in the reports current in London and America of a catastrophe in this city. There has been no extraordinary occurrence of any kind. The rumors probably arose from the fact that telegraphic communication between here and Santiago, Chile, was interrupted.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

BASEBALL - YACHTING - TENNIS - GOLF - MOTORING

LEADERS ALL WERE WINNERS

Athletics Took One From Tigers—Senators Won from Browns—Naps Took Two From the Yanks—Red Sox Won.

The Athletics took the first of a double-header scheduled with the Detroit Tigers yesterday afternoon, the score being a shut-out, 8 to 0. The second game was stopped by rain at the beginning of the third inning. Dauss and Brown were hit hard, while Brown kept the visitors' hits well scattered, allowing only a half dozen in nine innings.

The Washington Senators by taking yesterday's final game with the St. Louis Browns, made it three out of four for the series, Joe Boehling having been charged with their only defeat for the series on Monday. Engel for the Nationals, pitched air-tight ball, allowing only three hits.

The Cleveland Naps took the long end of the series with the New York Yankees, which terminated yesterday by winning both ends of the scheduled double-header.

The Boston Red Sox made a brilliant start on what Boston fans still insist on terming their pennant chase, by winning both ends of a double-header from the Chicago White Sox, to finish up the series with the Chicagoans. Buck O'Brien was seen on the mound for the White Sox in the terminating matinee against his former team-mates.

Philadelphia, July 29.—Philadelphia shut out Detroit 8 to 0 in the first game of a scheduled double-header this afternoon. Dauss and House were hit hard, while Brown kept the visitors' hits scattered. Rain stopped the second game as the first half of the third. Detroit was leading 1 to 0.

VICTIMS OF ANGRY COW.

Fearing for Newborn Calf, Animal Attacks Everything in Sight.

Mt. Holly, N. J., July 29.—Harry V. Kester, his sister, Mrs. Woodington, and her son, Norman, of Mt. Holly avenue, while in their yard were attacked by an angry cow which had given birth to a calf, and which attacked everything in sight.

Screams attracted the attention of a crowd of men, who saw Mrs. Woodington being gored. She was badly injured and carried to the house in an unconscious condition.

As soon as Kester rushed to the scene he fell over some boards and the angry animal got on top of him and began to gore with her horns, but the prostrate man succeeded in escaping. A crowd drove off the animal, but she returned and renewed the attacks, getting Norman for a victim, but was again driven off. A physician dressed the wounds of the victims and they will recover.

MAY DEPORT RESIDENTS.

Immigration Agents Holding Germans at Ellis Island.

New York, July 29.—Citizenship possessed no attractions for August Arndt and his wife, of Saginaw, Mich., despite their 56 years' residence in the United States, and as a consequence they are now held by the immigration authorities at Ellis Island, following their return Saturday from a visit to their birthplace in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Arndt came to the United States in 1857, but naturalization papers were not taken out. Arndt, however, has voted regularly. While it is probable they will be permitted to enter the country the immigration officials have it within their power to deport them.

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 29.—The Supreme Court today affirmed the grandfather clause amendment to the State Constitution, which disfranchises the negro under certain conditions. Notice of appeal to the United States Supreme Court has been given.

PRINCE TO BE NOMINATED

Ambassadorial Conference Settles Status of New Albania

London, July 29.—The Ambassadorial conference today settled the status of New Albania. A prince will be nominated six months hence to rule over the new State. In the meantime, a commission of control composed of one representative of each power will organize the administration, with the aid of a Swedish officered bendarmerie.

The conference has done nothing officially in the direction of coercing Turkey, and as the strongest feeling is manifested at indignation meetings throughout India against any attempt to drive the Turks from Adrianople, it is not likely the British government will be anxious to initiate such circulation.

Furious fighting occurred, the reinforced Bulgarians making a desperate attempt to re-capture their lost positions. The battle lasted throughout Sunday, during which the Greeks thrice were ejected at the point of the bayonet from one position. The fighting took place over an extended front and both sides suffered heavily. According to a Greek account of the battle neither side had gained a decisive advantage at nightfall Sunday, but under cover of darkness the shaken Bulgars retired after abandoning and setting fire to the town or Djuma, which later the Greeks occupied.

A corporal with the Greeks says the losses of the previous battle for the possession of the Kresna defiles were 2,500 men killed or wounded. Losses in Sunday's battle are not given. The correspondents adds that except for rear guard actions the Bulgars can make no further stand this side of Dubnitza, 22 miles south of Sofia and that no Bulgarian soldiers remain in Macedonia, except as prisoners.

The Greek fleets have occupied the ports of LaGos, Maronia and Makri on the coast of Thrace, and a Greek force has captured Gumurjina, about 75 miles southwest of Adrianople.

The Daily Telegraph Athens correspondent declares the Greeks must bring all their supplies from Demir Hissar by vehicles over a single mountainous road with a bad surface and that if the Bulgarians are given a respite they might reform their beaten forces, and with the six fresh divisions of troops around Sofia, start the war again with the chances in their favor.

NEW GYPSY KING.

Members of Mitchell Tribe Gathering in Missouri

Champaign, Ill., July 29.—Long Gypsy caravan wound over Central Illinois roads this week, bound for Mexico, Mo., where the new king of the large Mitchell tribe will be elected and crowned, according to Gypsy ceremonial. In other States similar movements occurred, for the word had gone out that the old king is dead.

The bands which traversed Illinois this week had just buried the old king of the clan in a Danville cemetery.

King Tom Nicholas had ruled the Nicholas or Mitchell tribe for 30 years. His successor has been selected, and the gathering at Mexico is merely a ratification.

The new king, to be formally elected when the fragments of the tribe, all headed toward the Missouri city, unite, is Emil Mitchell. He was a nephew of the late king, and is already a king. He is ruler of all the Gypsies of the United States.

DOG BITES SIX.

Four Young Girls Attacked by Rabid Dog in South Carolina.

Lancaster, S. C., July 29.—A mad dog in the Camp Creek section of the county one day last week bit six people: A. L. Lane and Minor Mehaffey, two well known planters of that community, and four young girls, two of them daughters of Mr. Lane.

The dog which was an unusually large hound, after trying to bite others was finally run down and shot by a number of boys and men who had been chasing it all day.

The victims are now in Lancaster taking the Pasteur treatment under Dr. R. C. Brown. All seem to be improving.

San Salvador, Republic of San Salvador, July 29.—Gen. Abraham Perdomo, well known throughout Central America as a military leader, was shot today in the principal square of this city, the Parque Duenas, by a journalist named Arturo Gomez. General Perdomo played a prominent part in last year's revolution in Nicaragua.

A PLAIN DUTY.

State Should Assure Safety of Life and Limb to Those It Restrains.

(Memphis Commercial Appeal.)

In the State of Mississippi, 35 negro convicts, confined in a cage, were burned to death.

The incident is a shocking illustration of what may result from the neglect of a State.

These wretches, having been deprived of their liberty, were worked by day and at night were confined in an inclosure in which they were locked, just as are wild animals in cages. The difference is that around the animal cages there is a keeper who is always on guard.

Those who make the four-legged animals prisoners seek to keep them alive as long as possible. The State, however, which makes two-legged animals prisoners apparently gives little attention to the physical well-being.

Of course, the burning to death of the convicts was an accident. Accidents are generally based upon blunders, and blunders are inexcusable.

The penitentiary system of Mississippi is now undergoing a far-reaching investigation. The drift of the investigation is to discover and punish the wrongdoings of officials having the affairs of the penitentiary in charge.

Today another branch of the investigation might begin, having for its end the protection of the lives of the convcts.

In New York more than half a hundred girls were burned to death in an overall factory.

Factories of this sort are usually not protected from fire. They are not surrounded by open spaces. In their walls the windows are not large and the doors are not many.

The labor going on in such places is often so body-breaking that if the public saw its craracter there would quickly be a change. These factories are in lofts or in buildings so arranged that the public may not see them. When the fire comes there is a stampede, often followed by death.

Involuntary workers, such as convicts and poorly paid voluntary workers, who, while they are free to go and come, yet must work or starve, might at least have guaranteed to them safety of life and limb.

COPPER MINERS STRIKE.

Governor Ferris Willing to Aid in Seeking Amicable Adjustment.

Calumet, Mich., July 29.—Operators of the Lake Superior copper mines will be asked officially tomorrow whether they will send five of their number to Lonsing to confer in Governor Ferris' office with five representatives of the striking miners. Gen. P. L. Abbey, in command of the State troops here, so announced tonight after receipt of a message from Governor Ferris in which the State executive intimated that he is willing to use his good offices in bringing order out of the industrial chaos which has kept 15,000 men idle for a week.

The news of the Governor's action followed reports of a serious fight between factions of miners near the Superior mine on the South range and of sluggings in various locations on the north end of the strike zone. The first arrests of the strike resulted from the Superior fight, in which two men of a party of ten were so severely beaten that there is little chance for their recovery.

At North Kearsarge mine, August Olson, a powerful fireman, was beaten while on his way home from work and required hospital treatment. Olson first knocked out four of his opponents. Further north there were numerous fights, especially about the Mohawk location, but none were seriously injured.

Starting of pumps in the Calumet and Hecla Conglomerate properties of Calumet was accomplished today under a heavy guard of infantrymen.

GIANT YOUNGSTERS BOTH WON

Demaree and Fromme Won Two More Games for Giants—Phils Hammered Hendrix—Braves and Reds Won.

That no National League team has anything on the pitching staff of the Giants as now constituted was proven yesterday afternoon, when McGraw, sending in a young twirler in each game of a scheduled double-header with the St. Louis Cardinals, won both ends of the double session, the first by a 1 to 0 score and the second game by a count of 3 to 1. Al Demaree, McGraw's youngest and most promising twirler, pitched bang-up ball in the first session, allowing only five hits, while his new acquisition, Arthur Fromme, formerly of the Reds, won the second stanza by a 3 to 1 score, also allowing just five hits throughout. Both pitchers held up strong and were in no need of assistance at any stage.

The Phillies' heavy hitters hammered Hendrix opportunely and won yesterday's argument by a 7 to 4 score.

The Boston Braves, who have been losing consistently to all comers of late, showed a remarkable reversal of form yesterday and with Dickson's superb twirling, won the game from the Chicago Cubs by a 9 to 1 score, evening up the series with Chicago.

The Cincinnati Reds rallied from their slump and won from the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6 to 5, George Johnson, the Winnebago Brave, twirling the same for the Reds.

Giants Shove Cards Down.

St. Louis, July 29.—By winning two games here today New York took a big stride towards the National League pennant and at the same time sent the local team into last place. The score of the first was 1 to 0, that of the second 3 to 1.

AFFAIRS IN CHINA.

Northern Army Reinforced and All Civilians Go to Shanghai.

Shanghai, July 30, (1:30 A. M.)—The Northern army reinforcements estimated to number 4,000 with two cruisers arrived in the Yang Tse river yesterday. The troops were loaded 20 miles below Wu Sung, apparently with a view to marching to the arsenal here.

Virtually all civilians have left Wu Sung for Shanghai, expecting a bombardment. Shanghai thus is exposed to an influx of refugees. Considerable damage has been done to the Native City by fires which were partly due to bursting shells and partly to incendiaries with a view to looting, which has been extensive. The foreign setlements, however, have been comparatively free from this evil.

One peculiar result of warfare in mid-Summer is the lack of clean clothes, all the laundrymen having fled to Ning Po.

The foreign consuls yesterday protested to the Northern aumirals against firing over Shanghai.

London, July 29.—The Southerners profiting by their earlier mistakes, are repairing defects and getting in large supplies of ammunition, says the Daily Telegraph's Peking correspondent. A long, wearisome war seems certain. "I understand 100 Japanese officers will join the Canton army, which consists of 40,000 good troops."

The Daily Telegraph's Shanghai correspondent reports the Native City there on fire in three places as a result of the cannonading of the arsenal. The dispatch probably refers to Monday's fighting.

Su Chow, July 29.—Between 15,000 and 20,000 Northern troops arrived here today and were dispatched southward for Chin Kiang, 45 miles northeast of Nanking.

WOOD PULP AND PAPER

From Russia Must be Dutiable, Says Secretary McAdoo

Washington, July 29.—Secretary McAdoo today announced that wood pulp and paper would not be admitted free of duty from Russia under "most favored nation" treatment, the treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and Russia having been abrogated December 31st, last.

The customs court recently decided that European countries with "favored nation" treaties with the United States were entitled to free wood pulp and paper because that provision was granted to Canada.

The Treasury Department has accepted that principle, but for the time being will apply it only to Norway, Austria-Hungary and Germany, which, aside from Russia, were the only countries directly involved in the discussion.

Secretary McAdoo has asked Secretary Bryan to ascertain whether Sweden, Belgium, Finland New Foundland, England and Denmark are entitled to free entry by virtue of their treaty rights. Wood pulp and paper come from all these countries, but as they were not specifically mentioned by the court the State Department is asked to decide whether they come within the purview of the decision. Acceptance of the customs court's decision ultimately will result in the United States surrendering $3,000,000 on duty already collected.

GUNBOAT TAKES A HAND

First Naval Activity in Recent Mexican Revolutions

Point Isabel, Texas, July 29.—A Mexican Federal gunboat is reported to have fired on Constitutionalists at the mouth of the Rio Grande. The Constitutionalists hold Matamoras, 20 miles up the river, opposite Brownsville, Texas. This was the first naval activity in the Rio Grande in any of the recent Mexican revolutions.

- Eleven-inch Upholster
- Continental Demountable Rims
- Genuine Turkish Cushions
- Chalmers Silk Mohair Top
- 36"x4" Tires
- Gasoline Pressure System

For the past two seasons the "Thirty-Six" has been acknowledged the best four-cylinder value on the market. Ten thousand cars of this model in daily service have built up its reputation for endurance, easy riding, mechanical smoothness, convenience, luxury, and economy.

The 1914 "Thirty-Six" is more than ever before a wonderful value. Fine new features have been added; there have been material improvements in design—yet the price is only $1775.

Molded Full Oval Fenders.

Fenders of an entirely new molded oval design—very popular abroad—are a feature of the "Thirty-Six." They not only add to the graceful appearance of the car, but afford greater protection from dust and mud. These beautiful fenders are a distinctive 1914 improvement which you will be unable to get on any other car at the price.

Gas Tank and Tires in Rear.

The entire car has been made more clean-cut and snappy in appearance. The gasoline tank and the spare tires are now carried at the rear, giving that much-desired appearance of length, clean running boards, and better riding qualities.

The new car is designed for utmost strength and safety. Axles are of nickel-steel; the double drop frame is unusually heavy. Steering connections are all drop forgings. Brakes are of maximum strength and power, 25 times as strong, in proportion, as the brakes of a locomotive.

Full Equipment Included.

The 1914 "Thirty-Six" at $1775 is fully equipped with Chalmers mohair top, genuine rain-vision windshield, Chalmers patented self-starter, 36"x4" tires, Continental demountable rims (one extra), Warner speedometer, Gray & Davis full electric lighting system, with special new dash light and provision for inspection lamp, new design non-rattling tire carrier, power tire inflater, horn, pump, jack, full set of tools and tire repair outfit.

See this new "Thirty-Six" at our show room and you will be convinced that it is a most unusual value at the price.

GOVERNOR ORDERS ELECTIONS

Vacancies in the Legislature to be Filled from Various Counties—Charters Issued—Raleigh News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 29.—Official writs were issued from the office of Governor Craig today for the special elections to be held in five counties for the election of successors to members of the General Assembly who have resigned, the elections to be held on September 9th.

This will give from September 9th to September 24th for the certification of the results of the election and for preparing the credentials for the new members before the Legislature convenes on the latter date.

The elections are to be held in Wilson, Iredell, Franklin, Pamlico and Mecklenburg counties. George W. Connor, of Wilson, who was Speaker of the House, resigned to take a judicial appointment from Governor Craig; Senator A. D. Watts, of Iredell county, resigned to become collector of internal revenue for the Western Carolina district; H. L. Gibbs resigned his seat in the House from Pamlico county to become State fish commissioner, and the seat of W. G. McLoughlin, of Mecklenburg county, was vacated by the death of Mr. McLoughlin a few days ago.

Attorney General Bickett has ruled that Hon. J. P. Cook, one of the Senators from the 24th district, does not have to resign on account of being appointed treasurer of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad Co. There is a similar ruling as to W. T. Woodley, of Chowan county, who is the member of the Senate from the First district. He is allowed to take the place of steward of Central Hospital and retain his seat in the Senate.

A requisition was issued today by Governor Craig for Chas. Austin, a negro, from Franklin county, who was sentenced in 1904 to 30 years in the penitentiary and escaped after serving only five months. He has been located in Newark, N. J., and Warden Sales, of the State's prison, has gone to New Jersey for him.

Assistant Secretary of State W. S. Wilson has returned from Caswell county where he was called on account of the desperate illness of his sister, Mrs. Hodges. She is better now and indications are that she will recover.

The Ideal Candy Co., of Charlotte, is chartered with $50,000 capital authorized and $3,000 subscribed by C. J. Livengood, H. E. Enochs, and Chas. R. Clinard, of Winston-Salem, for a candy manufacturing plant at Charlotte with branch plants at any other points desired.

Southport Company.

Another charter is for the Carolina Coast Products Co., of Southport, capital $200,000 authorized and $5,000 subscribed by Joseph F. and Irving B. Bussells and George F. Meares and Iredell Meares, of Wilmington, the company to conduct a general fisheries business, maintaining boats, pickling and otherwise handling fish for commercial purposes and also fish scrap and similar products.

The Southern Public Utilities Co., chartered under the laws of the State of Maine with $5,000,000 capital for electric light and power, street railway and other lines of business, filed papers for domestication under the laws of North Carolina today, with principal office for North Carolina in Charlotte. The officers are Z. V. Taylor, president; W. C. Parker, secretary, and E. C. Marshall, treasurer.

There is also a domestication for the Beaver Co., of Canton, Ohio, which has two million capital for manufacture of wood pulp board. The principal office for North Carolina is Roanoke Rapids, and M. H. Chase is named as the agent in charge of this State.

Major W. A. Graham, Commissioner of Agriculture, just back from a trip through Western and Central Carolina, and a month's stay at his plantation near Charlotte, declares that he has never known such fine crops in North Carolina. This applies to cotton, corn and all other crops. Small grain, including wheat, oats and other grains, are just about the best on record, both in quality and in volume of yield. In all his travels he has seen only two farms that could be said to be at all "grassy" and these were in widely separated sections. He says cotton seems to be as well advanced at this time as it was by the middle of August last season. He found the farmers in high spirits wherever he went and all that is needed to round up their record-breaking success this season is for favorable conditions to continue to the maturity of the crops and for the condition of the country to be such as will give them adequate prices for their produce.

Governor Craig issued an order today for Judge C. M. Cooke to hold Granville county court one week beginning August 4th and for Person county court one week, beginning August 11th, in the stead of Judge H. A. Foushee.

The State Board of Examiners has just completed the grading of the examination papers of the teachers who recently stood the examinations in the various counties for high school teacher certificates and five-year State certificates. The teachers who were successful will be announced very soon now. It is a notable fact that of the seventy-odd persons who stood the examinations for the five-year certificates only 18 were successful. There were 125 teachers who undertook the examinations for high school teacher certificates. The number of those who passed is not known yet. However, a much larger per cent of these passed than passed the examination for five-year certificates.

NAT GOODWIN, AN AUTHOR.

Is Now Finishing Up the Story of His Life.

Los Angeles, July 29.—Nat Goodwin is today finishing up the 500,000 word story of his life, including the story of his marriages and divorces. Asked who, of all the beautiful women he had met, he had really loved the most, Goodwin replied: "Why, my present wife, of course. Who else should it be? She saved my life twice in one day. I could not help loving her, for she is the one true woman and the one woman I have loved. I have told the entire story of my life, and have omitted none of the details of my career. I let every one down lightly and do not hand it to anyone."

DAUGHTRIDGE AT HOME

Lieutenant Governor Returns from Europe After Several Weeks

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., July 29.—Alighting from train No. 85 last night, carrying in his hand a grip that bore hotel stickers from half score nations in Europe, Lieutenant Governor E. L. Daughtridge greeted relatives and neighbors at the local passenger depot. The arrival of Mr. Daughtridge was quite a surprise to his friends as it had been reported that he would not arrive in the city until Tuesday. However, the Old North State and Edgecombe county made a more urgent plea for the attention of the Lieutenant Governor than did Gay Gotham and its nearby beach resorts and while arriving here late last night, Old Sol hadn't been on the job of shining half an hour this morning before the "farmer candidate" was off for his Edgecombe county plantation.

At his city home at the corner of Tarboro and Raleigh streets this afternoon he talked with newspaper reporters regarding his trip. The Lieutenant Governor stated that it would be some little time before the report of the commission would be made to Congress. A committee of compilation has been appointed and also an advisory committee to the compilation committee. Mr. Daughtridge kept the Tar Heel State in the front ranks again by being appointed as a member of the advisory committee.

Speaking of the findings of the commission, the Lieutenant Governor compared the United States with the countries the commission visited, with regards to the interests of the farmer. "This government has always fostered and encouraged industrial enterprises, these enterprises being protected by the tariff. Conditions are just the reverse in Europe. There, the tariff laws protect the farmers," he said.

Explaining the system of the rural co-operative banks, he stated that the farmers gave a joint note and borrowed money from some government bank. This borrowed money constitutes the capital of the rural bank and peasants are loaned money on personal security, no collateral being required. These banks have no assets but have unlimited liabilities.

He said that the commission will make no recommendations to Congress but will simply make a report of their findings. He expressed himself as being proud to arrive home and be within the borders of the Old North State once again.

FREIGHTS IN LENOIR.

Hon. C. C. Daniels Discusses Subject of Rates at Kinston.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 29.—Hon. C. C. Daniels, of Wilson, discussed in the court house here tonight the freight rate question whih is just now agitating the minds of the business men of North Carolina to the exclusion of almost everything else. He spoke under the auspices of the Lenoir county branch of the North Carolina Just Freight Rate Association. Mr. Daniels is a former Kinstonian and well known to the citizens here, a large number of which heard his able delivery. He showed familiarity with the subject of freight discrimination, and aroused more interest probably than has before been had here in the matter.

What the pursued believes was a race for his life occurred on a county road two miles from here yesterday when Mark Phillips, a colored farmer, was chased for half that distance by John Hines, another negro, and his son of the same name. Phillips escaped by hiding in the woods. Some time ago he appeared against John Hines, Jr., in a case in criminal court, and was instrumental in Hines' conviction. When the prisoner was sentenced to the roads both the Hineses promised to kill Phillips at the first opportunity. When he went to his place yesterday the men saw him and started toward him. He saw them approaching, got into his buggy and whipped up the horse. Hines, Sr., was mounted on a horse and armed with a revolver, while the son followed on foot with a club. Seeing that his mounted pursuer was gaining on him, Phillips leaped from the buggy and fled to the woods. He forded a branch neck-deep and escaped by a circuitous route to the city. The Hineses were arrested.

The absence of all from home was fortunate for the family of Fred Isler, a negro farm tenant of this county, when during a win, rain and electrical storm a large oak tree was uprooted and crashed down upon their two-room cabin, totally demolishing it. The oak was hurled onto the roof, and the walls crumpled as if made of paper, while everything within was smashed. Isler was in town and his wife and children at a neighbor's and this saved their lives.

HUNTING FOR MURDERER

Herbert Boyette Wanted in Wayne County for Murder

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., July 29.—Officers in this city are searching for Herbert Boyett, a negro man who shot and instantly killed, so it is alleged, another negro in this city late Saturday night.

The killing occurred in the southern part of the city while the murdered negro, James Bell, in company with several other negroes, were attending to the burning of a kiln.

When Bell finished his turn at the firing and started to his home he was shot by some one in the darkness, twice in rapid succession, a shotgun being the weapon used, and both loads taking vital effect in Bell's body killing him instantly.

One of the other hands at the kiln hailed the negro that did the shooting and he was promptly fired upon but missed, and the murderer would have killed him as he came to the kiln looking for him into the darkness, but the negro had fled, as did the others, leaving the murderer in possession of the scene.

Later the sheriff was 'phoned for and on his arrival a search was instituted. It was found that a negro man Herbert Boyett, who was known to have a shotgun, was missing and also his gun, and his little boy, who lived with him, the mother having left Boyett and gone to Florida, said his father had gone out with his gun just before the shooting took place.

As Boyett is still at large when the case was given a hearing by Coroner Stanley the jury of inquest decided to await developments before returning a verdict.

GIRL'S THROAT CUT

Twenty-five Arrests on Suspicion Follow Murder in Dallas

Dallas, Texas, July 29.—With her throat cut, the body of Miss Florence Brown, 27 years old, was found in the washroom of a local real estate office today, and within two hours 25 young white men had been arrested on suspicion.

The arrests were made in a general police round-up, the police holding persons whom they could not readily identify.

It was believed Miss Brown went to business at least 30 minutes before other employes of the office reported.

LIVING ABOVE THE CLOUDS

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Blowing Rock, July 29.—This Blowing Rock country, in North Carolina, is a veritable land of the sky; a residence above the clouds. I witnessed today a mountain picture of rare beauty. From the pinnacle of one of the majestic mountains up here, 4,300 feet above sea level, I saw a chasm or gulf of wooded ridges, valleys and mountains far below enveloped in clouds, looking as if the ocean had rolled up to my very feet, with a mountain peak here and there penetrating its fleecy whiteness like little green islands. Sunbeams, shooting golden arrows through the clouds higher up above my head, appeared as if sprinkling this phantom sea with star dust, that glittered and sparkled, and sank out of sight in the bosom of the whiteness, like jewels in the snow. As the day grew apace this vast ocean of clouds formed itself into huge bulkheads and moved down the valleys as majestically as great airships pluming themselves for long journey. The Blowing Rock breezes filled their sails and gently pushed them on their courses far below. From their under sides they showered rain drops upon their shadows, while their ruffled tops were bathed in sunshine as if it were golden filigree work. It was a gorgeous picture which no artist has yet painted, and one of kaleidoscopic beauty.

A beautiful social function at the Green Park Hotel, was the auction bridge party given Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Mrs. J. F. Wily, of Durham, and Mrs. Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, N. C. The rooms were artistically decorated with mountain ferns and woodland flowers, for which this section is noted. Beautiful women, handsomely gowned, vied with each other in the animating game of auction bridge.

Among the Green Park guests from Wilmington are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smallbones and Miss Smallbones. Other late arrivals are Chas. Darby, of Jacksonville, Fla.; C. Simpson and wife, of Statesville; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Page and family, of Key West, Fla.

The vacation bug has gotten into everybody's blood.

A big, successful exposition would certainly put Wilmington on the map.

Our idea of a soft snap is a job that carries an automobile with it.

Secretary McAdoo strikes us as being a man who is right on the job.

They say a carload was absorbed between Friday and Wednesday at Morehead City.

According to the reports Morehead City is now on an equality with Wrightsville Beach.

We fully agree with the poet these days that there is no joy but calm. Bring on the lotus!

We have to hand it to Senator Townsend for being able to mix up the language to suit himself.

A man can run out between times and catch enough fish here to supply a whole day's rations for the family.

"Photography is making rapid strides," exclaims a contemporary. Of course, else how would we have moving pictures?

The kaiser and the mikado are both interested, we are told, in eugenics. It is time royalty paid some attention to the subject.

Even if the State gets a fair reduction in freight rates, there is no reason why shippers should not cultivate the possibilities of this port.

An able chief of police could straighten out things down South if they would give him the right kind of patrolmen and the right-of-way.

Senator Overman doubtless was glad to hear from Tom and say that Patterson would never get it if he could help it. Strength to his arm!

It may be noted in passing that if a bank wrecker can stave off punishment long enough, he can finally get a compromise on his home town jail.

If they knew how deeply interested the whole country is in speedy currency legislation perhaps they wouldn't take two weeks more for wrangling over that bill.

No wonder the boys have been bragging about the fishing at Morehead. Reminds us of the plea that they make when the circus comes—going to see the animals.

It must be said that West Virginia does pretty well when she does get started. Four of seven indicted legislators have been found guilty of bribery in the Senatorial election.

The way we feel about it is that we would like to get Huerta 'round the corner in a back lot and beat him up so that his own dog would bite him when he went back home.

Washington's advice of entangling foreign alliances and so forth, shows up better every day. It's mighty swell to be a world power but it puts a lot of wrinkles in Uncle Sam's face.

When we read sprightly comments on the ball games in the papers of the Carolina circuit we feel like a foreigner. The idea of this town not having a perfectly bully baseball team!

If something would happen that would be real interesting, Mexico, Mulhall and the tariff would get the can in short order. As it is, we have to play 'em up for there is nothing else doing.

It is very easy to say that Americans should stay at home and keep out of the Balkans and China and Mexico and other countries where they are liable to get their heads shot off; but at the same time our idea is that this government should so vigilantly guard its citizens through all the ends of the earth that wherever the Stars and Stripes float there would be deep respect and abiding fear of laying hands on anybody who hails from the U. S. A. Foreigners from the whole world come here and are treated in the main just as Americans.

WHEN BATTLE FLAGS ARE FURLED

What with the enormous armaments of European countries and of our own, constantly increasing; and the fearful and barbarous war raging in the Balkans, in Mexico and China, the peaceful-minded man who had hoped that the dawn of new era was at hand must be rather disappointed, not to say disillusioned. The peace conferences had doubtless led him to think that this sort of trouble had reached the vanishing point.

But the goal is still afar. Let us hope that the greater peoples of the earth have finished with their tremendous struggles preliminary to settling fundamental domestic problems. Let us hope that in their relations with each other, they will not again put their trust in reeking tube and iron shard, and that arbitration will keep them, the world leaders and chief exponents of the Christian religion, from flying at each other's throats. Their huge and ever-growing armaments may have this effect.

But the others—the lesser breeds—it is not yet time to hope that they will be able to solve their internal puzzles without bloodshed. In the throes of transition and evolution, they of necessity have recourse to the primal weapon of war, to bring order out of chaos. It is a hard struggle with them, as it was with Anglo and Saxon and Dane and others of the Teutonic people; and often hope is lost amid outbreaks of ferocity as fierce as ever they were in primtive ages. But we who have passed through these National experiences, can see above all the tumult the star of peace, calmly at its rest, knowing that beyond the conflicts of these people is the final goal of ordered National life, and ultimate internal peace, when primal questions have been answered in blood, and industry and development may enter upon their healing and uninterrupted rule. Mexico, unleashed of the ordered tyranny of the years; China, freed from the hoary, outgrown institutions of the centuries; the Balkans, triumphant in their wild burst of ancient revenge and relieved of the horrors that had crushed them down for generations, all plunge into wildest fratracidal strife. It is the inevitable; all other peoples have gone through with it, and suffered it. France, far above these in racial values, experienced it. America's experience came late in her history, but it came. England fought through her civil wars. Through it all was democracy, working to the surface; through it all today is the germ of freedom fighting for the right to live. Democracy comes hard, but it comes. Contemplating the atrocities of the day in the unfortunate States, we are prone to forget that our own civilization cost the same price in the far years.

Ultimate freedom, ultimate peace, for every nation, for all tribes—that is the goal. It may be long, but furled the battle flags will be some day; silent the martial drums, and universal brotherhood, the parliament of man, the federation of the world—the dream of the poet, will be realized for this is unquestionably the end of it all, the final act in man's march of progress from the depths of ignorance and barbarism to the high plane of civilized living, just above the earth, under the eaves of heaven. * * * the monarch, the Prince of Peace.

OLD TIME RATIONS.

Old Man Ed Pearsall, who has friends scattered all the way from Hanging Dog to Federal Point, writes The Star a letter that is loaded with what it takes to start a riot among city people who have been eating substitutes and canned horse and nearthings until they could stand right up in the middle of the street and scream for help. His letter might even start an exodus toward Rocky Point and violence might be done our friend for spreading before the public a feast that has all the earmarks of a Barmecide affair. This is what he says:

"On Saturdays we generally went to the mill pond a-fishing, and came home with the usual fisherman's luck, to find temptingly displayed on the long dining table a dinner like this: Corn bread baked in the fireplace; ham, and Kentucky Wonder snap beans; butter beans, new baked sweet potatoes, smothered chicken (Spring); home grown rice, creamed potatoes, buttermilk, beaten biscuit, and last, but not least, Indian peach dumplings with butter and sugar sauce flavored with nutmeg and peach brandy."

"That was all" he adds; and we pray that the Lord may keep him from being grabbed and shaken till he falls apart! "Talk about your strawberry, peach and cherry creams," he goes on, making believe he is unconscious of having the whole world on the rack, "they can't touch a peach dumpling with a 40-foot pole; and the boy who went a-fishing forgot his little string of brook cats and eels."

We cannot at this time recall when we had a more ferocious desire to do harm to a fellow being, or had a greater longing for old times when life was lived to its uttermost and the rations were all of the Olympian brand and didn't carry a government pure food and drug act label. Mr. Pearsall has a pen of potency, and if his latest production should start a procession of the famished toward Rocky Point, he need not be surprised, and he had better give them a pretty good imitation of what he pictures, should half the population of this town take a notion to visit him some fine day, in time for dinner. We are persuaded that he had lately dined on some such long dining table as he describes, and there must be more like it around his domicile.

FREIGHT RATES.

"If the railroads have granted all the concessions requested by the State in the matter of freight rates," thinks the Charlotte Chronicle, "the big squabble is as well as settled, and the Legislature will be allowed to devote its entire time to the matter of the Constitutional amendments." As we understood it, the main thing the Legislature will be looking after is State finances, for from what we can learn there is a pretty kettle of fish in this line, at Raleigh. However, the rate question is at its most interesting stage just now, and if the meagre reports are to be accepted as true, the State has got about all that it has contended for, through the Corporation Commission. But what the Corporation Commission has asked may not be what the shippers, generally, want, and in the absence of any recommendation from the commission that the offer of the railroads be accepted, we take it that the commission itself is rather doubtful of the terms of the alleged concession. On the face of it we should say that things have fallen about like the people wanted them, and if this turns out to be so, there will be some very badly disappointed gentlemen in the State. We are persuaded that it is not lower rates, but a chance to raise merry cain that some of them want. We are hopeful that when the Legislature meets the railroads will have arranged things so that there will be no need for even raising the rate question in the General Assembly.

SHADE TREES FOR SIDEWALKS.

In Charlotte there is a question of whether the shade trees on a certain street shall be cut down to make room for sidewalk improvement. Cutting down shade trees for any improvement is a very bad thing, we should say; and if left with us, we would keep the shade trees and let the improvement go. Wilmington's trees and plazas go to make this place one of the most beautiful cities in the United States, and while now and then a tree does interfere with laying paving, we deem it far better to keep the tree than gain a little bit of street improvement. A city without trees is to be pitied. Sometimes a small town gets the idea that it is too countrified with all its trees, and there is a wholesale slaughter of them. After such a town has grown to be of some importance, the people realize their mistake. Let the trees alone! Plant more of them and take care of what you've got. There are not a few in this city which need attention from the tree doctor, though it must be said that on the whole Wilmington has taken jealous care of its trees—veritable jewels in its crown.

When the panic-making crowd find out that none of their bluffs can throw a scare into the Wilson regime, they will quit their foolishness and go back to work. This is one time when bluffs do not work.

HOPE FOR THE FAT FOLK

The fat man, nearly always the personification of mirth and happiness, nevertheless wouldn't mind if his adipose tissue was reduced, and the fleshy lady—what wouldn't she give for lost form? There are as many plans for reducing flesh as there are for putting it on, and most of them are fakes, nearly all are inconvenient, many are injurious. But electricity, wizard that it is, now offers a chance that is sure, easy and void of danger. Noting that obesity cures are based on the fact that cutting down the diet sets the organism to consuming reserve substances, a French writer has the following, which comes by way of the Literary Digest:

"As underfeeding affects some persons so badly that the activity of the heart and the general state of the health suffer thereby, it is not always possible to employ this regimen. On the other hand, muscular exercise, which aids so effectively in cures of this kind, can not in general be insisted on with feeble persons or those suffering from over-development of the heart, from asthma, etc.

"Bergonie, in France, has recently obtained good results by applying to the obese electric currents that, by stimulating the muscles, oblige the patient to perform automatic muscular exercise, without fatigue. A German physician, Dr. Nagelschmidt, has had the Sanitas Company in Berlin build a special apparatus for applying a similar treatment in particularly favorable conditions and by means of a new form of alternating current.

"This apparatus is composed of a reclining chair of strong wood, provided with insulated metallic surfaces which serve as electrodes to apply the current. At the back of the chair are fixed two electrodes which may be adapted to the shape of the patient's back, by turning two racks. The seat has also two electrodes, and two for the calves are disposed on adjustable boards where the feet rest. Two others may be applied to the abdomen and two to the thighs or chest, by means of supports set by the side of the long chair.

"All these electrodes are joined with a switchboard which enables them to be connected either to a positive or a negative pole by means of ten small commutators. The switchboard also bears a resistance that can be regulated for each electrode, and a general rheostat for the conductor that leads in the current.

"A special commutator, operated by a small electric motor * * * serves to transform the primary current into an alterating current with a rapid series of impulses.

"This form of current, comparable in many ways with Leduc's intermittent current, makes it possible also to produce local, or even general anesthesia. The commutator has two contacts that slide over the rim of a wheel having metallic segments connected with the source of continuous current; the simultaneous contact of two successive segments closes the current in alternate directions.

"The anesthetic effects of this form of current are always accompanied by powerful convulsive movements of certain muscles; the biceps becomes capable of raising automatically twenty pounds or more. When only muscular stimulation is required as in the treatment of obesity, a very high frequency is used, corresponding to about 7,000 periods a minute. The muscular convulsions thus produced in the entire body are accompanied with no disagreeable sensations. In normal conditions, the patients, after treatment, feel particularly well and fit to do still more muscular work."

MOTHER O' MINE.

If I were hanged on the highest hill,
Mother o' mine; O mother o' mine!
I know whose love would follow me still,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose tears would come down to me,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

If I were damned of body and soul

I know whose prayers would make me whole
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

FIRST RIDE IN AUTO

Aged Poyntelle Woman Takes Chance on Birthday Anniversary

Scranton, Pa., July 28.—After refusing repeated invitations, Mrs. Martha Monroe, of Poyntelle, near here, finally consented to take an automobile ride today, the first in her life, in honor of her 99th birthday anniversary. For five years her children had urged her to take a spin in the automobile owned by one of them, but the many accidents of which she read in the papers caused her to be timid. Today when she reached one year of her century mark she declared that as she had not much longer to live anyway, she might as well take a chance in the "pesky thing." She did and returned delighted.

AUTOIST GETS A YEAR

Sentenced to Jail for Running Over a Man

Hickory, N. C., July 28.—Abel Flannigan, who ran over and seriously hurt Philip Whitener Saturday night, was tried in the city court this morning on three charges, drunkenness, running down Whitener and resisting an officer. For the three offenses he was sentenced to the county jail at Newton for 12 months.

Flannigan lives here with his mother, who is about 80 years old and in very feeble health.

The Farmer's Prosperity

During the past ten years the Farmers of the country have come into their own. They have grown somewhat larger crops by intensive methods, but the real reason of their prosperity is that they have handled their affairs more carefully and have become Business Men as well as Farmers.

A prime requisite in the proper handling of a Farmer's business is a checking account at the Bank. No merchant would try to conduct his business without a checking account, and no Farmer should try to do so.

MORE ROBBERIES REPORTED

Burglar Shot at on Chesnut Street Monday Night—Larceny of $121 from Cottle's Drug Store Sunday Night

As usual at this time of the year there are many robberies being perpetrated in Wilmington it seems. Mr. Ben J. Cottle, proprietor of a drug store at Eighth and Castle streets, states that an unknown person got $121 from his place Sunday night. Early yesterday morning Mr. W. E. Boone, who rooms at the residence of Mr. H. H. Foard, No. 507 Chesnut street, shot at a burglar, who forced his way through a lattice door in the rear of the house. It is also reported that C. D. Weeks, Esq., had jewelry stolen from the safe in his office amounting in value to $50 or $60.

The police department as well as some of those who have suffered losses from thieves have been unusually reticent in giving out information and for that reason some of the robberies that have occurred during the last week or so have not been given publicity.

The only possible excuse for keeping the robberies quiet is the erroneous idea that seizes members of the police department at times that in keeping the information from the public they can more easily run down the criminal. This theory has long been exploded and except in a few rare instances it does not aid the officers to keep information of a robber from the general public. Chief Williams has stated that so far as he is concerned he has no objection to the publication of information as to robberies, realizing that as a rule it does not interfere with the work of the department, but rather aids it if anything, but somehow it takes several days for a report of a robbery to get into the papers after being reported at headquarters.

It is well known that when work is scarce that there is a certain class of people who attempt to get money by means of breaking into stores and residences. This probably accounts for the epidemic of thievery that seems to be on in Wilmington just now.

Mr. W. E. Boone stated last night that some one forced his way through the lattice door to the piazza in the rear of the residence of Mr. H. H. Foard, on Chesnut street, at 2:30 yesterday morning, and that in passing across the porch he overturned some bottles making considerable noise. Mr. Boone went down but saw nothing of a burglar at that time. About half an hour later he heard some one stealthily making his way up the rear stairway. He got his pistol and came out into the hall and saw a man on the stairs. He shot at him and is sure that the bullet struck him in the back.

The empty cartridge jammed the magazine making it necessary for him to remove the magazine before he was able to shoot again. The man, he states, fell at the time the first shot was fired but when he had got his pistol in working order again the man had gotten up and gone outside the yard. As he ran around the corner of the Hemenway school yard Mr. Boone fired six shots at him in rapid succession, but none of them seemed to have taken effect as the man made his escape.

Mr. Boone notified the police department and Sergeant E. J. Grimsley and H. W. Howell made a thorough search of the premises in the neighborhood but without finding any trace of the burglar. Mrs. M. D. Bright, who lives at 214 North Fifth street, stated that some one had been prowling around her home for an hour or so a short time before the attempted burglary at Mr. Foard's residence.

Mr. Cottle stated last night that on Sunday night about 11 o'clock he was busy counting the money in his cash register preparatory to closing up for the night, and while he was thus engaged a negro came into his store to make a purchase. Leaving the money on the register he went into the prescription department which is separated from the front by a partition to get the desired article. When he returned the money had disappeared, and there was no one in the store.

The amount of money stolen, he states, was $121. At the time the money was stolen besides the negro in the store there were two others standing at the door, he thinks. He has no clue as to the guilty person. It is stated that the matter was reported to the police department Monday night. This is the second robbery that Mr. Cottle has had in recent months.

Nothing definite could be learned yesterday in regard to the alleged robbery that occurred in Mr. Weeks's office. The police state that nothing about the matter has been reported to them. Mr. Weeks and family have gone to Black Mountain. It is reported on the streets that the value of the jewelry stolen from the safe was about $50 or $60, and that it was all family jewelry, and therefore especially valuable to Mr. Weeks on account of its association.

Judgment Left Open

Several weeks ago Justice Harriss issued a capias for Dr. J. H. Alston, a colored physician of this city, and had a rule served to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt of court by reason of the fact that he sent an affidavit stating that one J. D. Burnett, colored, charged with violating the prohibition law, was too ill to attend court. Burnett was later arrested on a capias and brought before Justice Harriss when he gave bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance in court. Burnett has disappeared, it is stated, and cannot be found. In answer to the rule served Dr. Alston through his attorney Woodus Kellum, Esq., disclaimed any intention to attempt to deceive the court as to Burnett's physical condition. Justice Harriss has not passed upon Dr. Alston's case, but he stated yesterday that he was waiting until Burnett could be found.

CHLORINATION APPARATUS.

Additional Protection Provided to Insure Purity of Water Supply.

The chlorination apparatus recently installed on trial at the city water pumping station was placed in operation Saturday afternoon and is now in daily use. Little trouble was experienced in getting the new apparatus in working shape, and Chemist George Catlett stated yesterday that everything was in smooth running order. The installation of the new apparatus means an additional protection to the citizens of Wilmington.

The work which was formerly done with the use of lime can now be carried on much more expeditiously, and will also insure absolute purity of the water, it is claimed. Before passing through the chlorinating apparatus the water is thoroughly filtered so that it really passes through two purifying processes.

NO MEETING OF COMMITTEE

Exposition for Wilmington Wasn't Discussed Yesterday—Dr. Bellamy Declares It Will be Held—Endorsement

The scheduled meeting of the committee of fifty, recently appointed by Mayor Moore, to consider Dr. Russell Bellamy's proposition for holding an exposition in Wilmington in 1916, did not take place yesterday at noon owing to non-attendance of the members. There was a shower of rain just before noon, the hour set for the meeting, and this perhaps kept the members away. There were only four members present, these being the chairman, Mr. J. Allan Taylor, Judge George Rountree and Messrs. Henry Whyte and W. E. Worth. Mr. J. O. Reilly arrived soon after the others had departed. There will probably be a meeting later, if a quorum can be secured.

Dr. Bellamy stated yesterday afternoon that the exposition would be held, and that it would be on a gigantic scale. He declared that he had sufficient backing in the undertaking to carry it through, and that he had no intention of stopping. He has endorsements from many prominent men throughout the country, he stated, and is daily receiving letters of commendation for the enterprise. He believes that it means a great deal for the future development of this section. If Wilmington will not give its support why, he said, it can be held elsewhere but there is no question but that Wilmington is the logical place for it, and it is for this reason that he and his associates have tentatively decided on this city, he stated.

The following with refernce to the project was the lead editorial in yesterday's Charlotte Observer:

"Wilmington proposes to feel the pulse of the State in the matter of holding 'The Atlantic Panama Exposition.' Dr. Russell Bellamy has taken the initiative and has appointed a committee of fifty citizens of Wilmington to see what the State thinks about it. If the proposition is favorably entertained, 100 delegates will be appointed to co-operate with Wilmington in launching the exposition. It is proposed to hold the North Carolina show after the California affair. The wedge of land between Wilmington and the ocean would make an ideal site for the exposition and Fort Fisher might be incorporated for sentiment. Several months ago, The Observer intimated that an exposition of this sort is what the State should have and Wilmington is the place for it. When the Legislature was being asked to appropriate money for a State display at the San Francisco Exposition, this paper advocated as the better plan that North Carolina should use its money in getting up an exposition of its own. The Wilmington Exposition would fill the bill.

"The main thing to settle at the start is the matter of financing the enterprise. The Observer would favor a liberal appropriation by the Legislature and we believe a bond issue would be taken with no incentive to make money, but rather, even, with the expectation by the takers of losing money. It would be an object that would appeal to the patriotism of the people of North Carolina. The Observer hopes Doctor Bellamy will find the pulse of the State beating like that of a healthy body. We feel quite sure that Wilmington will find the State financially responsive to the enterprise. It is not at all too big an undertaking for the best State in the United States of America."

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Sarah Bell, Colored, Sent to County Farm for Thirty Days.

The Recorder yesterday sentenced Sarah Bell to serve 30 days on the county farm for vagrancy. Alfonso Robertson, colored, charged with vagrancy, was found not guilty. Julia James and Hannah Green, both colored, also charged with vagrancy, were discharged. Harry Walker, colored, was before the court charged with non-support of his wife. He agreed to contribute $2.50 a week to her support, and was given until this morning to give bond in the sum of $50 for the faithful performance of the agreement.

In the cases against E. A. Todd, charged with violating the sanitary ordinances of the city, a verdict of not guilty was entered as the State did not contend for a verdict. G. W. Branch, also charged with violating the sanitary ordinance, was found not guilty, as it appeared that the fault did not lie with the defendant. The case against J. E. Cowell, proprietor of The Orton barber shop, who is charged with keeping it open on Sunday, was set for Friday, August 1st.

MEETING OF COUNCIL.

Councilman Wood's Ordinance Relative to Wires Comes Up Today.

The regular weekly meeting of the City Council will be held this morning at 9:15 o'clock. It is expected that at this meeting the ordinance offered last week by Councilman Wood with reference to placing all wires on ornamental iron poles in the downtown district will be brought up again, this time for action. The proposed ordinance provides that after January 1st, 1914, all wires on Front street, from the union station to Orange street, and on Princess and Market streets, from Front to Fourth, must be placed on ornamental poles, or, as an alternative they may be placed underground. Consideration of the ordinance was held up at the last meeting at the suggestion of Councilman Loughlin, who thought the companies owning the wires should be given an opportunity to be heard before any action was taken.

Successor Not Yet Appointed.

No successor to Mr. F. A. Fetter, commercial agent for the Seaboard Air Line in Wilmington, has yet been appointed. Mr. Fetter's resignation is effective August 1st, when he expects to go to Raleigh to assume his duties as special agent for the Atlantic Life Insurance Co., of Richmond, Va. Mr. Fetter has been asked by the railroad to remain in Wilmington until August 15th, or until such time as the appointment of his successor is made, and if the appointment is not made before August 1st he will probably do so.

Want More Letter Carriers.

Some time ago Postmaster Green recommended to the Postoffice Department that two more letter carriers be added to the present force. Postoffice Inspector Albertie was sent here by the department to look into the matter, and left Sunday afternoon after having spent two weeks in making investigations of the conditions under which the carriers have to work. He did not state what his recommendation would be, but it is hoped that it will be favorable.

SEARCH FOR FORTUNE TELLER

Victims of Madame Melean Contribute Fund to be Used in Hunt for Her. Warrant Was Issued Yesterday.

Smarting under the realization that they have been duped and parted with some of their hard-earned money, some 25 or 30 victims of Madame Melean, the veiled prophet, clairvoyant and psychic palmist, who has disappeared with some $3,000 or $4,000 belonging to her patrons, have formed a pool and have contributed liberally to the fund to send a man in search of her and bring her back to Wilmington for trial, a warrant having been sworn out yesterday charging her with fraud.

The warrant was sworn out by Mr. Fred J. Mintz, who makes affidavit that he lost $110. The fortune teller is thought by some to be in Florida and the police said yesterday that it was understood that the victims, or some of them, would send a man to that State to make a search for her. Chief of Police Williams has sent letters to various cities and towns giving a description of the woman and asking her arrest.

Two of the victims approached Sheriff Cowan yesterday and asked his aid in trailing the woman. Sheriff Cowan informed them that he could do nothing as she was most likely out of the State by this time. They told the sheriff that some of the victims had agreed to contribute to a fund to be used in making a country-wide search for her. Apparently they are determined to arrest her and bring her back here for trial if she can be found.

Chief Williams said last night that he had been informed that some eight or ten women, who are supposed to have been victimized by the clairvoyant, were seen at the residence at No. 106 North Fourth street Monday night, there apparently in the hope that the woman would turn up and return to them the money they had let her have to dream over.

According to those who contributed, the plan of the clairvoyant was to get money from her patrons, always in large sums, so as to sleep on it for two nights and thus be enabled to advise how best to invest it. Her dreams would be hazy, very hazy and she would suggest that she try it again later. This was the plan followed with all, so the police say, and she worked the game so cleverly that all of the $3,000 or $4,000 she is supposed to have gotten was in her hands at the same time. Then she went away, telling persons in the neighborhood that she was going to the beach to spend Sunday. So far those who have made an investigation have failed to find that she went to the beach at all and they think she went off on a train instead, taking advantage of the fact that it was Sunday.

Those who lost money by reason of the operation of Madame Melean have hopes of locating her and bringing her back to Wilmington, but the general public believes she has gone far out of the reach of the local authorities.

EXAMINING MILK SUPPLY.

Health Department Making Tests in Order to Fix Standardization.

The health department began several weeks ago an examination into the milk supply of the city of Wilmington. The examination includes tests of the milk as to nutritive qualities, purity and wholesomeness, and inspection of the premises as to general cleanliness. Before the standardization is made tests will be duplicated in order that there can be no possibility of errors.

As soon as the examinations have been completed and verified the milk that is sold in Wilmington whether produced in the city or elsewhere will be divided into classes as to cleanliness and wholesomeness. The lowest class will include milk that is within the limit of safety as to cleanliness and within the State pure food law as to contents of fats, solids and water. Any milk that comes within the lowest class for three consecutive months will be excluded from the local market.

The examination and the standardization is being done in order to protect the citizens against impure milk. It is expected that the insurance of a pure milk supply will decidedly improve health conditions. The department will also inspect all ice cream sold in the city as well as other foods sold on the local market.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

J. S. Blake, Colored, Alleged to Have Passed Bogus Check.

J. S. Blake, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of forging a check, it being alleged that he attempted to get a bogus check for $29.80 cashed at the Southern National Bank. The check was signed with the name of Tom Smith, a colored wood and coal dealer, and was sent by Blake to the bank by McKinley Dry, a colored boy. The paying teller noticed that the signature was not genuine, it is stated, and notified the police department, and Blake was arrested by Officer A. D. Smith. Blake stated that the check was given to him by another negro, and that he thought it was all right. He was locked up and will have a hearing this morning before the Recorder.

This college whose advertisement appears in another column, is one of the oldest colleges in North Carolina, having been founded in 1850. It has thus had a long and honorable record. It has maintained a high standard of scholarship, and has had all its years high ideals. It is thorough and progressive using all advanced methods. Its teachers are able and admirably prepared for their work. They have secured from the leading universities and standard colleges of this country, while several of these have had European training also. It offers courses in literature, music, art, business, teaching and the latest department is that of domestic science instituted a year ago with complete equipment. It is exceedingly fortunate in its location. Oxford is one of the prettiest towns in the State and is noted for the refinement of its social life, having been the seat of schools of high grade for three generations. The school has four buildings only two stories high, planned by the president after an experience of more than 30 years in the management of schools for girls. These buildings have all modern conveniences, steam heat, electric lights, complete water system. The campus is one of the most beautiful in all the land. The growth has been steady and many years of usefulness seems to be in store for it. President Hobgood has given more than 40 years to the teaching of girls, 33 of these as president of Oxford College. (advertisement.)

ROCKY MOUNT POSTOFFICE.

Report of Inspector Favorable to O. A. Snipes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., July 29.—The report of the postoffice inspector with reference to charges filed against O. A. Snipes, whom Representative Claude Kitchin has recommended for postmaster at Rocky Mount, appears to be very favorable to Mr. Kitchin's man.

The inspector says that no one questions the honesty of Snipes. It is admitted that he drinks occasionally and has played cards for money. When made postmaster Snipes says he will discontinue both the use of whiskey and the card tables. Those opposing Snipes, according to the inspector, will not make written statements that Snipes is a drunkard and a gambler; their contention is "past performances."

"Eighty per cent of the people of Rocky Mount want Snipes for postmaster," the report says. "W. G. Bullock, who preferred charges against Mr. Snipes, said that he signed the affidavit before he knew what he was signing; that he would not have signed the papers against Snipes had he been fully aware of their contents."

He says, in substance, that he (Bullock) was imposed upon and now desires to correct a false impression which he has created.

In conclusion the inspector says he was informed by patrons of the office that the present postmaster at Rocky Mount was no better qualified for the office than is Snipes when he first entered the service; the incumbent has made an excellent official, the report says, and he believes Snipes would be entirely satisfactory to the town and the Postoffice Department.

The inspector talked with the following people at Rocky Mount, who favored the appointment of Snipes: L. V. Bassett, T. H. Battle, W. H. Hardison, George B. Champman, W. S. Wilkerson, J. C. Braswell, R. B. Davis, Dr. George L. Wimberley, Judge Jacob Battle and J. M. Fox.

Those opposed to Snipes who conversed with the inspector are G. W. Battle, J. W. Aycock, P. A. Hampton, J. W. Keel, F. J. Daundy, Moses Oppenheimer, A. L. Tyson and J. W. Jenkins. P. R. A.

NO SKEETERS IN FIVE YEARS.

Bethel Boasts Freedom of the Pestiferous Pest.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., July 29.—This old scribe was given one of the biggest surprises of the year when he stepped off the train at the prosperous little town of Bethel, N. C., about 25 miles east of Tarboro, and was informed by citizens of Bethel that it had been five years since a mosquito had made his appearance in that town. Being a stranger there we made no comment on the above statement, but did some tall thinking that it would be best not to put in print.

However, we remained in the above city all day last Monday and though we organized a party of friends and made a thorough search of the gem little city, not a single mosquito did we find.

We feel confident that the good people of Bethel would do well to organize a stock company and erect a manufacturing plant that would prove successful in bottling up the atmosphere in that section for the purpose of shipping it out to other towns who haven't as yet gotten wise to the peace and happiness of a town minus the mosquiter.

The proprietor of the hotel at Bethel has out a standing reward of $10 for every mosquito found in his building, but after reading this article no drummer will be justified in stopping at the above hotel with a grip full of mosquitoes.

DYNAMITE CAP INJURES.

Nash County Man Hurt While Driving Along the Road.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount N. C., July 29.—Mr. George Harper, who lives about five miles from this city in Nash, yesterday afternoon received a painful injury when he was struck on the forehead by a dynamite cap, which exploded when his buggy ran over it on the Falls road, near the corner of Elm street. Mr. Harper was riding along the street with his wife and children when the explosion occurred, a shiver from the cap striking him in the center of the forehead, making a long gash, which caused him to lose a large amount of blood. He was immediately rushed to the city where he was given medical attention.

It is thought that the cap was placed in the road by some mischievous boys, who did not know what the consequences might be. It is stated that there have been a number of the caps found at the site of the old rock quarry, they having been used in blasting operations there. It is reported today that Mr. Harper is getting along very nicely.

FIRE AT PARKTON.

Barber Shops and Pressing Clubs Go Up in Flames—Escape.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Parkton, N. C., July 29.—Fire shortly after last midnight here destroyed the barber shop and pressing club of Archie Lowry, an Indian, who had a narrow escape from the building, not having been awakened until a gasoline tank exploded from the heat, and a bicycle shop, barber shop and pressing club owned and operated by Dug Ray, colored. Ray saved some of his belongings, but Lowry lost $30 in cash and about $200 in equipment of his establishment. An adjoining frame building was saved by heroic work of a crowd which assembled soon after the fire started.

KILLING IN SAN SALVADOR

Gen. Perdomo Shot Dead by Journalist in Public Square

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, July 29.—Gen. Abraham Pardomo, well known throughout Central America as a military leader, was shot dead today in the principal square of this city, the Parque Duenas, by a journalist named Arturo Gomez.

Gen. Perdomo played a prominent par tin last year's revolution in Nicaragua.

Trial In German Yesterday

Justice Bornemann was unable to reach a decision yesterday in the case in which Charles Magyar and wife Wilhelmina Magyar, are suing Joseph Kosh for $10.50, the amount of damage which it is alleged Kosh's cattle did to the growing crops of the former, and continued the case until August 9th. All persons concerned are Hungarians, and are unable to speak English intelligently, and therefore the trial was conducted entirely in the German language. There was much talking done but it could not be understood by those who have the misfortune to be able to speak only English. The justice hopes that they will be able to settle their differences by the time set for the next hearing.

Buenos Ayres, July 29.—The government of Argentina today introduced a bill into Congress on the lines of the Sherman law, decharing unlawful all trusts and combinations in restraint of trade and production.

WHAT MR. LOW THINKS

When Charged Additional Expense Roads Must Increase Earnings

(New York Herald.)

Coincident with the settlement of the differences between the railways of the East and their trainmen, Mr. Seth Low, president of the National Civic Federation, has issued a statement bearing upon the merits of the controversy which will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Herald. One sentence in Mr. Low's statement should be laid before every member of the United States government and kept there:

"But this I do want to say, that the railroads cannot be independently charged with additional expense unless, when circumstances justify it, they be permitted also to increase their earnings."

This is one of the greatest truths in connection with our economic situation today that could be uttered. It is not possible that if conditions continue the railroads may with justice apply to the President of the United States for his intercession, in order that there may be mediation between them and the Inter-State Commerce Commission?

FELL FROM TRAIN.

Hope Mills Young Man Has Accident. Seriously Hurt.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., July 29.—Troy Guy, a young man of Hope Mills, fell from a moving freight train on the Atlantic Coast Line near the trestle this side of Hope Mills, yesterday afternoon, sustaining serious, if not fatal, injuries.

Guy had come to Fayetteville in the morning and had missed both passenger trains by which he might have returned home in the afternoon. So, catching a freight, he climbed to the roof of a box car. As the train neared Hope Mills the young man started down the side ladder, but a brakeman waved him back, and he reascended to the top of the car. A few moments later a number of his townspeople saw him roll from the roof of the car. They went to the boy's assistance and carried him home. His condition is said to be critical. Buy has been employed in Mill No. 4 of the Hope Mills Manufacturing Company.

A SPECIAL "DON'T"

DON'T use cough medicine that contains opium or morphine. It may stifle the cough, but it will constipate the bowels, keep the poison in the system, and NOT cure the cold. Take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It contains no opiates, is soothing and healing, mildly laxative. It is a safe and reliable curative medicine. —R. R. Bellamy.

DELIGHTFUL BOATING PARTY ON CAPE FEAR YESTERDAY

A delightful boating party was given yesterday by Mr. B. P. Strickland in honor of Mrs. J. D. Latham and friends. The party went up the Cape Fear river in the tug Navassa, leaving the city about 10 o'clock and returning late in the afternoon. A short trip was also taken up the Northeast river. Lunch was served on board the boat, and was a most enjoyable feature of the outing. The following ladies and gentlemen were members of the party: Mrs. E. K. Proctor and Miss Lillian Proctor, of Lumberton; Mrs. C. J. Thompson and Miss Theodosia Thompson, of Raleigh; Mrs. Spivey of Pollocksville; Misses Florence Potter, Elise Cronly and Annie Banks and Mrs. J. D. Latham, of this city, and Messrs. J. P. Stansel, W. R. Hay, B. P. Strickland, W. M. Bolin and Mr. Wagner, of this city.

Caught Big Fish in Florida

Mr. N. T. Maxwell returned Monday night from Boch Grande, Fla., where he spent a week fishing. He had luck, and besides a large number of smaller fish succeeded in landing a big Tarpon which weighed 110 1-2 pounds. He states that it took him one hour and ten minutes to bring him in. The Tarpon is a deep water fish, and is known as the gamest fish that can be caught with hook and line. Sportsmen from all parts of the country go to the west coast of Florida for the purpose of catching these fish, Mr. Maxwell states. Other fish are to be had in abundance, those most frequently caught being trout and red fish.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The revenue cutter Seminole returned yesterday from Charleston, where she went to take on supplies.

—Martin's Industrial Lightship No. 8 arrived here yesterday from Brunswick, Ga. She will be dry docked by the Wilmington Iron Works, and completely overhauled.

—The Star was misinformed yesterday as to the death of Wm. B. Haywood, colored, a request for a notice of his death having been made. Haywood is seriously ill, but not dead.

—Mr. A. H. High, of Winter Park, was taken to the James Walker Memorial Hospital yesterday morning on account of a severe hemorrhage. He was reported last night as being very much better his friends will be glad to learn.

—By deed filed for record yesterday, Chas. Allen and wife, of Brownville, Gla., to George Jackson and wife, of New York, for $100 and other considerations, five acres of land at the Rock Hill place, in Cape Fear township.

—Luther Haynes, colored, was arrested by the police this morning at 1 o'clock, on a charge of having used a knife on Mitchell Williams, colored, the first of last week. Williams was badly cut about the shoulders, it is said, though the wounds were not of a serious nature.

—C. R. Jones, white, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer A. D. Smith for running an automobile without having a chauffeur's license displayed. It seems that he had his license in his pocket, but not on the machine. He was recognized for his appearance before the Recorder today.

—The condition of Mr. William E. Cromwell, of the circulation department of The Star, who was operated on Sunday at the James Walker Memorial Hospital for appendicitis, was reported last night as being about the same it has been for the last two days. He rallied from the operation but is still critically ill, his friends will regret to learn.

—Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer: "Just before going to press we learn that Mr. W. B. Jackson, a prominent citizen of this county and father of Messrs. R. M. and William Jackson, of this city, was struck by lightning this afternoon about 3 o'clock at 'Skibo,' Dr. J. V. McGougan's place west of the city. While Mr. Jackson was knocked down and received a severe cut on the forehead, it is not thought that he is dangerously hurt."

WITH THE MOVIES

Four big pictures, plenty of new music, lavish, solid comfort and the ever tiny price of 5 cents make a superb offering at the cozy, handsome Grand Theatre today. The film bill will be without a superior and with only few equals in the very largest cities and the solid comfort of the delightful spot will be something magnetic and great. And today's wonderful bill is headed by a swell John Bunny film, which, of course, means tremendous laughs. It will be "His Tired Uncle" and its the funniest thing the noted Vitagraph company has turned out. "Peter, the Artist", is another film triumph for today that will prove a winner, and that is of most novel nature. Pathe has an exceedingly interesting and highly entertaining photoplay in "The Ant Lion". It is something truly unique. "The Chateau of Blois" in France, is also a great film that will greatly delight all today at the Grand.

Where Cool Breezes Blow.

Amusement lovers of Wilmington certainly seem to know and appreciate where the cool breezes sweep and where the big show for the smallest money holds forth. Hence, they daily pack the delightfully comfortable and in every way up-to-date Bijou. Today the Bijou will introduce something novel and new in the first of the series of Kate Kirby cases, dealing with the daring doings of a noted female detective. Today's initial film will be "The Diamond Crown" and it is a thriller. It's Kalem's best. That clever and popular actress, Ruth Roland, will also appear today as a star, being seen as the Indian heroine in the great dramatic, "The Indian Maid's Warning." The fun pictures today will be led by "Jones' Jonah Day." Getting bald, Jones has his hair clipped about to the skull. He is then mistaken for an escaped canvict and the fun is fast and furious. Another swell comedy today is "A Flurry in Diamonds." telling of a faker among gullible countrymen.

LARGELY ATTENDED FUNERAL.

Many Pay Final Tribute to Widow of Capt. A. B. Hollowell.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., July 29.—One of the largest attended funerals in the history of the city was that of Mrs. A. B. Hollowell, relict of Capt. A. B. Hollowell, who died in this city Sunday night, held from the home this morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. M. Wright, in the absence of her own pastor, Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, of St. Paul's church, who is absent from the city, a patient in St. Luke's Hospital in Richmond.

Mrs. Hollowell was 60 years of age, and is survived by five children, all grown, two sons and three daughters, who are Mr. Wm. Hollowell, Mrs. J. B. Barrino, Miss Bessie and Mr. Bena Hollowell, of this city, and Mrs. S. A. McPherson, of Camden county.

She is survived also by two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Hugh Allen, of Greenville, and Mrs. O. P. Mann, of Whitakers, and Mr. Wm. Green, of this city and a wide circle of near relatives.

THE THIN AND WEAK

Easy Way for Them to Get Strong and Fat

To thin and weak people J. Hicks Bunting has a word to say. Let them use Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, that is now so popular, and they will soon be plump and rosy.

Samose is not an ordinary medicine; it is a flesh-forming food that is adapted to the most delicate. Its tonic effect gives strength and health so that after its use for a short time, all the flesh and fat-producing elements in the food will be easily assimilated and retained by the body.

The large sale Druggist J. Hicks Bunting had on Samose since he first Bunting has hado on Samose since he first introduced it in Wilmington and the wonderful results following its use have made him such an enthusiastic believer in its great merits that he gives his personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose does not make thin people fat and restore strength and health.

When a gain in weight is noticed after Samose has been used for a week or ten days, and health has improved, and you notice yourself growing stronger, you certainly should feel more than satisfied with what you have received from the small cost of 50c.

Wrightsville Beach

Mrs. George Forester returned to her home at Atlanta Monday after spending several weeks at the beach.

Miss Helen Greenberg, of Hartford, Conn., is spending the Summer with Miss Helen Solomon, at the cottage of Mr. S. Solomon.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Miss Mary Pruett has returned home from Wrightsville Beach, where she attended a house party."

Miss Sallie Cobb Johnson, a popular young lady of Atlanta, is expected to arrive today for a stay of several weeks at the Oceanic Hotel.

Mrs. J. Frank Meador and daughter, Charlotte, left yesterday for Toxaway to spend the remainder of the Summer, after a stay of several weeks at the Oceanic Hotel.

Miss Wyoline Lowe Purtell, of Atlanta, who is a guest at the Seashore Hotel, is an accomplished whistler, and has delightfully entertained the guests of the hotel on a number of occasions with her whistling.

Mrs. J. Frank Meador, of Atlanta, entertained a number of her friends Monday evening with a sailing party, given in Banks' Channel. Mrs. Meador left yesterday for Lake Toxaway, where she will spend several weeks before returning to her home.

Among the recent arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel are: Miss Helen Broughton, Miss Vermelle Pitts, Sumter, S. C.; W. J. Beres, A. Davidson, Atlanta; H. A. Briggs, Memphis, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Sykes, Aberdeen, Miss.; John T. Reid, Norfolk; I. N. Swinson, Goldsboro; W. E. Smith, Joseph Walker, Jr., Cloa, S. C.

There will be another fireworks exhibition at Lumina next Monday night. This display will be furnished by the International Fireworks Co., of Newark, N. J., the same concern that furnished the display of Monday night that proved such a great success. The display will be of the same high order and it is likely that hundreds will go down from the city to witness it.

Recent arrivals at the Southern Hotel include: J. L. Graves, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Avant, Bolton; J. K. Alford, Dillon, S. C.; H. L. Bond, Baltimore; J. N. Gregory, Norfolk; Misses Rebecca Adams, Johnsie Adams, Marie Torence, Gastonia; DeLong Evans, Washington, D. C.; C. M. Walker, Fayetteville; Miss Clara Benbow, Wilkesboro; Mrs. A. S. Livermore, Miss Helen Livermore, Miss Leila Livermore Pease, Miss Frances Cole, Memphis, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Simmons, Mrs. John C. Lumsden, Raleigh; W. S. Weeks, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Spier, Atlanta; Mrs. I. A. Kronenberg and son, Miss Essie J. Kronenberg, Birmingham; Mrs. A. J. Compton, Miss Anna B. Compton, Charlotte.

Many friends on the beach and in Wilmington and elsewhere will be interested in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Hortense Ottenger and Mr. Arthur Greil, of Montgomery, Ala., the marriage to take place in the Winter. Miss Ottenger, with her mother, has been coming to Wrightsville Beach for the past five or six seasons and is a most attractive and popular young lady. She is a sister of Mrs. I. W. Solomon, of Wilmington. Mrs. Ottenger and daughter are spending the Summer at the Oceanic Hotel. Friends of the couple have received the announcement of the engagement with the greatest interest. It was a case of love at first sight. Mr. Greil arrived from Montgomery last week to spend his vacation at the beach, stopping at the Oceanic Hotel. Soon after his arrival he met Miss Ottenger. Three days later announcement of the engagement was made. According to the present plans of the young couple the wedding will take place in January.

STRIKE ENDS FOR PRESENT

Agreement Reached in Troubles of Miners at Cabin Creek

Charleston, W. Va., July 29.—A committee of local citizens who have interested themselves in the mining troubles on Cabin Creek announced late today that they had succeeded in bringing the coal operators and representatives of the United Mine Workers of America together. They said an agreement had been reached and a formal statement calling off the strike soon would be issued.

The agreement lacks the adjustment of a few minor details before becoming a fact. The committee negotiating the settlement comprised Governor Hatfield and Ira Davis and James Thomas, coal operators, and Isadore Schwab, of Staunton, and R. B. Hubbard, local business men.

It is known that the miners have received concessions. While demands are met by the operators, the miners' union is not recognized.

The settlement with Cabin Creek today—similar to Paint Creek and New River fields—for the present brings to an end a prolonged coal strike in West Virginia.

To The Young Expectant Mother

Women of Experience Advise the Use of Mother's Friend.

There is a certain degree of trepidation in the minds of most women in regard to the subject of motherhood. The longing to possess is often contradicted by the inherent fear of a period of distress.

But there need be no such dread in view of the fact that we have a most noble remedy in what is known as Mother's Friend. This is an external application that has a wonderful influence and control over the muscular tissues of the abdomen. By its daily use the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments all gently expand without the slightest strain; there is no pain, no nausea, no nervousness; what was dreaded as a severe physical ordeal becomes a calm, serene, joyful anticipation that has its impress such as our foremost teachers of Eugenics are striving to drill into the minds of the present generation.

In almost every community there are women who have used Mother's Friend, and they are the ones that recovered quickly, conserved their health and strength to thus preside over families destined by every rule of physiology and the history of successful men and women to repeat the story of greater achievement.

Mother's Friend is prepared after the formula of a noted family doctor by the Bradfield Regulator Co., 138 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Write them for their instructive book to expectant mothers. You will find Mother's Friend on sale by all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle.

COTTON DISPLAYS STRENGTH

Conditions in the Market Still Governed by Unfavorable Weather Reports—Close Steady at Net Advance

New York, July 26.—Still governed by unfavorable weather outlook today the cotton market displayed considerable strength again and after opening steady at an advance of 4 to 6 points, made further gains to a level of 13 to 15 points net higher on old crops, and about 9 points on new crops. Meeting rather liberal Southern selling on the strong spots, however, and with more or less local realizing in evidence during the final hour, part of the improvement was lost, the close being steady, at 2 to 10 points net advance.

Covering by Western shorts chiefly explained the early strength in July and August contracts, while the buying of December, which was again the feature of new crop operations, was credited to a prominent local house whose purchases of that month during the last three days have been about 40,000 bales, understood to represent short cotton.

The weekly government weather report confirmed recept private advices as to the urgent need of rain in Texas, to which was added today the fear of renewed high temperatures in the Southwest. On the other hand, it called attention to ideal conditions for plant growth in Eastern States of the belt. As most leading cotton counties in Texas have had little or no rain in over three weeks and dry weather is promised for at least several days more, bulls were inclined to expect numerous deterioration from that State, and there was some talk of a possible demonstration for higher prices before the bureau report on Friday, as the market is still believed to be considerably oversold.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, July 29.—Cotton goods are steady, but quiet. Men's wear openings continued during the day, the smaller factors following the lead, made yesterday, in reducing prices for Spring, sharply. Silk ribbons for such purposes are in active demand. Yarns are in better call.

BEAR MEAT UNWANTED

Californian Peddles Bruin's Flesh With Poor Results

Sacramento, Cal., July 29.—Near Donner Station, in the Sierras, bears are making their appearance in numbers. Hungry after their Winter's hibernation, they are coming out in the open in search of food, only to fall victims to the guns of hunters.

A. W. Lorraine, a resident of that section, killed last week and shipped to this city a 150-pound bear to sell in the local markets, with the statement that if there was any demand for this kind of meat he would no doubt be able to make frequent shipments, as the bears seemed to be very plentiful this year.

Despite the fact that the animal had been an occupant of its Winter's den for several months, its flesh was in fairly good condition, but the general public did not seem to take kindly to it, and there is little likelihood that bear meat will become a part of the usual diet of Northern Californians.

STOCK MARKET REACTIONARY

Heavy Undertone in Operations and Lighter Trading Than on Previous Day—Changes in Conditions Trivial.

New York, July 29.—A reactionary tendency was manifested by the stock market today—almost the first in a fortnight. Trading was lighter than on the previous day.

Not only was the undertone of today's operations heavy for the most part, but there were indications as well that the rise had come to a halt, for a time, at least. During the frequent periods of stagnation in the afternoon neither bulls nor bears seemed disposed to take the initiative, and such changes as occurred were trivial.

Apart from less encouraging advices respecting crops and some resentment on the part of bankers to the statement of the Secretary of the Treasury in the matter of the government 2 per cent bonds, the day was devoid of news bearing upon the market.

Some betterment was reported in the general market, but this was confined largely to issues of a so-called legal character, and suggested little or no increase of demand by investors. Government bonds were once more an element of weakness, registered 2s selling at 95¾, the lowest actual price, while Panama 3s were ¼ per cent. lower on the bid.

London bought again, taking about 15,000 shares of Eries, Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific, while Berlin was a direct purchaser of Canadian Pacific. The most interesting news from the British capital deal with the failure of another colonial loan, the greater part of which had to be taken by the underwriters.

Less than the usual interest was attached to the second quarterly report of the Steel Corporation, issued after the market's close. The report of the Steel Corporation, issued after the market's close. The statement showed total earnings of $41,219,813, compared with 34,426,801 for the preceding quarter, and $25,102,205 for the corresponding quarter of last year. Total sales of bonds, par value, aggregated $165,8000.

Total sales of stocks were 221,300 shares, including: American Tobacco, 300; A. C. L., 100; C. and O., 3,700; Lehigh Valley, 3,800; L. and N., 100; N. and W., 300; S. A. BAN ON CITY CHAPS

Village Dames Form Club to Shut Out Summer Boarders

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 29.—Fair maidens of Millerton, Dutchess county, will no longer be ensnared by the wiles of tall and handsome youths, who have every year invaded the village as Summer boarders, bent upon heart conquests. The Millerton girls have formed a society of self-protection called the "Beau Nots."

Its mandates set forth in the by-laws and constitution are that in the Summer the members are to have no young men callers and are not to allow themselves to be courted, especially by city youths, from June until September.

At all other times Cupid shall have an open season. The young men of Millerton are elated. They have watched their sweethearts go by with handsome strangers year after year until their hearts ached. Not so this Summer.

TRUSTEES' SALE.

Under and by virtue of the power conferred upon me in a deed of trust executed on the 13th day of June, 1911, by W. A. Simpkins and wife and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for New Hanover County in Book of Mortgages 64, page 427, and at the request of the holder of the note described in said deed of trust, I will, on Wednesday, the 20th day of August, 1913, at 12 o'clock, M., at the Court House door at Wilmington, North Carolina, sell for cash to the highest bidder the following described land:

First tract.—Beginning at the Southeast corner of a tract of land now in the possession of Mrs. Mills, on the North edge of the old Newbern road, and runs thence Eastwardly with the Northern edge of the said old Newbern road about 200 feet to the Southwestern corner of a tract of land now or lately in the possession of Mrs. Oldenbuttle, and thence with said Oldenbuttle's Western line North 3 deg. E. 2,000 feet to a stake; thence South 89 deg. W. about 200 feet to Mills' line; thence with Mills' line South 3 deg. W. to the beginning, containing 10 acres.

2nd. tract.—Beginning in the dividing line between Oldenbuttle's tract and the tract of D. N. Chadwick, the same being the Western line of a tract of land conveyed to Lilly M. R. Oldenbuttle by Steven W. Noble and wife, by deed dated the 27th of October, 1891, and registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, in Book 8, page 422 et seq., and corrected by deed dated the 3rd day of May, 1894, and recorded in Book 13, at pages 344 et seq., of the records of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, at a point where said dividing line is intersected by the Northern line of the right of way of the connecting line between the Wilmington & Newbern Railroad, and the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, and the said points being 600 feet Northwardly from the old Newbern dirt road, and runs thence Northwardly with said dividing line about 1,500 feet to the Northern line of the said tract; thence Eastwardly with the said Northern line 200 feet to the Eastern line of said tract; thence Southwardly with the said Eastern line to the right of way of said railroad; thence Westwardly with said railroad to the beginning, the same being all that part of a tract of land conveyed to the said Lilly M. R. Oldenbuttle by Steven W. Noble and wife as aforesaid, which is now lying North of the said connecting line of railroads, both of which said deeds, for more certainty of description, are made a part hereof.

3rd tract.—Beginning at W. H. Mills' Northwest corner of the Hardwick tract, 200 feet Westwardly from the pine stump marking the old Hardwick line, and runs thence Northwardly 4 deg. 30 min. East 746 feet to a stone marked D. N. C.; thence South 88 deg. E. 1,034 84-100 feet to a stone marked D. N. C.; thence S. 4 deg. 30 min. West 880⅘ feet to a stone marked D. N. C., Wentzenstein's corner; thence North 85 deg. 30 min. W. with Wentzenstein's back line, and the back line of D. N. Chadwick, 626 13-100 feet to a stone in W. H. Mills' back line; thence North 4 deg. 30 min. East 146 feet to Mills' Northeast corner, and thence North 85 deg. 30 min. West 408 71-100 feet to the beginning, containing 20 acres, more or less.

4th tract.—Beginning at a ditch bank at W. H. Mills' and D. N. Chadwick's corner of his 20-acre tract, a stone marked D. N. C.; thence North 40 deg. West 5 chains and 37 links to a stake near a water oak; thence North 45 deg. West 10 chains to a stake on a cart road; thence North 76¼ deg. West 11 chains and 90 links to a stake near a cedar tree on the East side of a neighborhood road; thence along the East edge of said road North 10 deg. 45 min. East 30 chains and 82 links to a cypress knee on the bank of the South side of Smith's Creek; thence up the various courses of said creek to a large cypress tree a little above a woodland; thence due East 81 links to a lightwood post near and on the South side of a large hollow black gum tree; thence due South 32 chains and 90 links to a stake in said D. N. Chadwick's Northern line of his 20-acre tract; thence with said line North 88 deg. West 2 chains and 66 links to a stone marked D. N. C., a corner of the said D. N. Chadwick's 20-acre tract; thence with said Chadwick's line of said tract South 4½ deg. West 11 chains and 44 links to the beginning, containing 52¾ acres.

All of said land hereinbefore described being the same conveyed to W. A. Simpkins by D. N. Chadwick, Jr., by deed duly registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, in Book 62, page 73.

Said sale is made by reason of the failure of W. A. Simpkins and wife to pay off and discharge the indebtedness described in said deed of trust.

This 15th day of July, 1913.

TREASON IN CHINA

Events in Celestial Empire Attracting Notice of World

New York, July 29.—"May the Republic of China live ten thousand years." These were the words of President Yuan Shih Kai when he exchanged greetings with President Wilson, who recognized the new republic on May 2nd. It is evident that the rebels of South China do not agree with him. They would not have it live ten thousand days. It is passed through a bare five hundred days, and they are striving to plunge the knife of treason into its vitals.

Sun Yat Sen, the so-called George Washington, of China, the greatly lauded Mazzini of the twentieth century, allies himself in a public statement of July 22nd to the London Telegraph and other papers, with Huang Hsing and other traitors at Nanking. Where are all his fine promises about a united China? Yesterday he grew enthusiastic over the unity and prosperity he would bring about by a magnificent system of railways. Today he repudiates unity and prosperity by going to the traitors at Nanking, which the thoughtful Huang Hsing, a general of the national army, took the precaution of putting under martial law in behalf of the rebels.

Sun Yat Sen was an American agent in Europe now, who left China last February in good faith to raise $300,000,000 to build 10,000 miles of railways in China. Suppose Dr. Sun had some of that money now. Would he use it for China's good, as president of the General Railway Company of the Republic of China, the position to which President Yuan appointed him in February, or would it be converted into arms and ammunition to fight the central government? It would be interesting to know just what Dr. Sun's ideas of "unity and prosperity" are at the present time. Not one foreign banker in search of legitimate returns on a legitimate investment would risk the price of his morning paper in anything advocated by Sun Yat Sen today. President Yuan on July 23rd dismissed him from his railway post.

American diplomacy since Anson Burlingame's mission to China in 1861 has stood for the integrity of all China. Ours is the only great government in the world that has opposed the country's dismemberment. We were against the division of China by outside forces in the days of the Manchus. We are against the division of China by domestic secession in these days of the republic. If the rebels are being supported by any European or Asiatic power they may be sure that the motive is hate of a united China, not love for them. The rebel leaders in Kwangtung, Kiangsi, Kiangsu and Fukien are not only attempting to strangle the republican ideal in Asia's first republic. They are offering up their country as a living sacrifice to the territorial and financial greed of the nations, or nation, whose citizens, or money agents, are financing the present untimely and uncalled for insurrection.

It is not enough that the regulars have twice decisively defeated the rebels. There is little consolation in the knowledge that President Yuan has both the money and the troops to suppress the revolt. The belief that this abortive movement will soon be checked is tempered by the regret in this country that it was ever begun. It seems that Sun Yat Sen, Huang Hsing, Tsen Cheu Hsuan, Wang Chung Wei and Cheng Hsuan Huia have still to learn that liberty is not license, that public office does not mean private pelf, and that all real governments are based on individual and sectional sacrifices for the sake of stability and unity.

YOUNG LADY DROWNS

Branch Swollen by Rain Proves Fatal for One of Party

Monroe, N. C., July 28.—A heavy wind and electric storm, accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain, passed over a small area of Union county yesterday. The cloud was dangerous-looking and appeared as though it would bring a general rain, but traversed a narrow strip across the county after the nature of a cyclone. At Liberty and Center churches the downpour was extraordinary. There was little wind, but the rain has caused much damage, and was the result of the death of Miss Jessie Pistole, by drowning.

Miss Pistole, her mother and brother were present at Center Methodist church, attending a protracted meeting, and after the storm started home, all in one buggy. When they reached "Outen Branch," which is nothing more than an ordinary stream of water at all times, they found that it had risen four or five feet above the small bridge that crosses the stream. Mr. John Pistole, who was doing the driving, thought there would be no danger in crossing. When in the center of the swiftly-moving water the horse missed the bridge and all three were thrown into the stream, the horse going to one side of a tree and the buggy to the other.

Mr. Pistole swam to the bank and safely landed his mother and returned for his sister, but found that she was badly tangled with the harness and could not release her. To save himself he returned to the shore. The lady was found an hour later when the stream had subsided.

To see the stream today one would not believe it possible that anyone had been drowned there. It is not more than ten inches deep and can easily be stepped across. After a big rain the stream is raised for a few minutes but soon falls.

The funeral and interment took place here this afternoon. Rev. T. J. Huggins conducting the services. Mr. Huggins preached the sermon at Center yesterday, the last that the young lady heard and he was her pastor, she having joined the Methodist church in her girlhood days. She was tathep

ANCIENT SHIPWRECK.

Divers Discover Vessel Filled With Greek Bronzes and Marbles.

London, July 29.—How a shipwreck which is supposed to have occurred in 86 B. C. was discovered was the interesting story which Prof. R. C. Bosanquet related to the members of the Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies.

In 1907 some sponge divers found an ancient wreck on the sea bottom at 25 fathoms four miles off the coast of Tunis, and the diving operations were carried on for five years. The ship had on board a cargo of marble columns and works of art, and it is thought that in all probability the disaster was due to faulty loading, as 65 of the columns were placed between decks.

A similar wreck was discovered in 1900 off the Greek island of Cerigo, and in both instances the bronzes were comparatively well preserved, particularly a notable figure of Eros, which may be connected with the school of Praxiteles.

In sharp contrast to this is a group of very realistic statuettes, which seem to represent dancers in an ancient cafe chantant. The vessel contained abundant remains of bronze furniture, braziers, candelabra, and the feet and arms of bronze couches.

MORE SUNDAY TALK

What the Mayor of a New York Town Said

When Mayor O'Neill, of Auburn, N. Y., was asked at a conference of mayors the question "What does your city need most?" he replied, "Sunday baseball;" whereas the New York World slaps him on the back and exclaims "Well spoken!" Which is all very well as far as it goes, but it doesn't go very far.

There may be nothing inherently wrong in Sunday sports. The question may be one which a man should have the right to decide for himslef. But however that may be, Sunday sports are not now in need of an advocate. Neither is any of the other forms of the new liberality which is so marked a feature of this age and which is growing so fast that now it seems impossible to stop it. We are getting more and more "liberal." We dance the turkey trot in our parlors, where not so long ago even the two-step did not dare intrude. We let our daughters read books and take them to see plays which a quarter of a century ago would have been considered as leading to sure damnation.

We have taken off the brakes. We are going fast enough as it is and we don't need anybody to give us a shove. Sunday sports may be a mild and comparatively innocuous form of the new liberality. They may even be beneficial, as some claim and as The World maintains; but they are a form, a symptom of this modern freedom of thought and of action which is leading us no man knows whither, and before we endorse and legalize them, let us study the question with some care and with an eye to ultimate, as well as ti immediate, efforts. Over against the fact that Sunday baseball may keep some young men from spending the Sabbath afternoon in a bar room, let us place the fact that, when we endorse Sunday sports, we abandon another tenet of that old-time morality which, however narrow it may have been in some respects, has been the vital and the conserving force of civilization.—Washington Post.

BIG NEW FREIGHTER

Old Dominion Steamship Makes First Trip to Norfolk

Yesterday's Virginian-Pilot says:

"The new big freight steamer Tyler of the Old Dominion Steamship Company, arrived in Norfolk early this morning on her first trip from New York. She is loading a full cargo of freight at Pinners Point and is due to steam to New York this afternoon.

"The Tyler is the most up-to-date and largest freight steamer in the regular coastwise trade out of Norfolk. She is of 4,200 net tonnage, and is built of steel of the modern hurricane deck type of construction, with two derrick masts and five cargo booms. Two of these booms are capable of lifting ten tons each, two others five tons each and the other three tons.

"The dimensions of the new steamer are: Length over all, 344 feet; length between perpendiculars, 320.9 feet; beam, moulded, 47 feet; depth, 26 feet. Steam is generated in two single-ended Scotch boilers under forced draft. The propeller is driven by a triple-expansion engine having cylinders of 19 3-4 inches, 33 1-4 inches and 58 inches diameter, respectively. The hull of the steamer is divided into five water-tight compartments by five bulkheads.

"Captain A. C. Gibbs, well known to the patrons of the Old Dominion line as master of the steamer Jamestown, is in command of the Tyler."

POLITICAL UPRISING

Great Revolutionary Activity Prevails in Portugal

Paris, July 29.—Dispatches from Portugal received by way of the Spanish frontier today indicate that great revolutionary activity prevails in Portugal. It is reported that a vast movement, planned in Lisbon and Oporto, ma ybreak out at any moment. From the same source it is learned that serious street fighting occurred last night in various places.

The censor in Lisbon refused to allow the cabling of an Associated Press dispatch stating that a band of revolutionaries had attempted to rush the barracks of the Tenth Infantry regiment in order to rescue political prisoners detained there.

The civilians were repulsed by the troops after an exchange of shots with the guard.

EXPLOSIVES IN PRISON

Two Sticks Dynamite Found in Cell at Sing Sing

Ossining, N. Y., July 29.—Close watch was kept on the convicts in Sing Sing today to prevent another revolt. The discovery of two sticks of dynamite in an cell last night indicated that the plots of the rebellious prisoners to destroy property as a protest against prison conditions were not yet over.

The dynamite is now at the bottom of the Hudson river, but it is feared that there may be more of the explosive in the prisoners' possession.

Three hundred and fifty of the most rebellious convicts who have been under bread and water discipline in their cells for the last few days probably will not be given their usual prison freedom until after the transfer tomorrow of 60 or more of them to Auburn.

JUDGE PLAYED SAFE

Couldn't Tell Which Twin Flirted, So Fined Both

Philadelphia, July 29.—It cost either Frank or Harry Swartz, 19 years old, $8.50 to be the twin of the other today, when Magistrate Morris fined them each that amount because he couldn't tell which had been guilty of flirting in the park.

Complaints have come to the Woodford park guard of a young man of certain description, whose actions with girls in the vicinity of horticultural hall have offended the informers. With the description, Long, a park guard, went looking for the man it fit, last night, and found two of them. The only difference between Frank and Harry's dress and appearance was that one of them wore white socks and the other lavender.

DAILY GAIN IN WEIGHT

Comes to Those Who Use Samose, Says Druggist J. Hicks Bunting

The poor, thin, emaciated person, when he or she becomes plump, rosy and robust by using Samose, forgets that there is such a thing as weakness and underweight.

Samose restores health to the whole system so that the tissues assimilate from the food all of those elements which make solid bone, firm muscle, pure blood, and sufficient fat to restore beautiful and symmetrical outlines to the figure.

An increase in weight is seen from the first week's use of Samose, but if it does not restore you to your proper weight and give you full vigor and vitality, Druggist J. Hicks Bunting will return your money. You certainly can afford to try Samose on this guarantee.

CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY.

European System as Studied by American Commission.

Kleinkugel, Germany, July 29.—Operations of a co-operative dairy society have been studied here by a subcommittee of the American Commission on Agricultural Cooperation.

Members of the society own in all about 250 cows. Each member is required to own at least two cows and to take out at least one share of stock cosing $3. However, many of the members own more than the required two cows, and purchase one share of stock for each two cows. One of the members who received the Commissioners owned 30 cows and $36 worth of stock.

The milk of the members is brought each day to the dairy by the members themselves. The dairy is operated to make a small profit, but this margin is simply a guard against losses and not a means to pay dividends to the members. At the present time the society has not paid off the mortgages on its buildings, and so the profits after a portion are placed in a reserve fund, are paid as interest and principal on these loans. Members of the dairy receive cash for their milk from the dairy. It is bought according to the percentage of butter fat which it contains. The buttermilk and skimmed milk is returned to the farmers for cheese making and food for hogs. In another village the Commissioners saw a co-operative dairy where the hogs were kept by the society, and where cheese was manufactured.

Because of superior quality of butter made at the co-operative dairy, as compared to butter made on the farms, the price obtained for co-operative butter averages about 15 per cent above the market price. The cost of making is considerably reduced so that the increased returns to the members are satisfactory. Dealers in butter are required to pay a local tax, but because of the co-operative and non-profit seeking character of this dairy no tax is required unless the dairy wishes to purchase milk from outside farmers. All members of the dairy are required to supply all of their milk, not required for use at home, to the co-operative dairy.

The manager of the dairy who appeared before the Commissioners, said that his salary was $450 a year, with a free house, free butter and milk allowed. Yet he was a trained dairyman and a graduate of one of the German dairy schools. He told the Commission something of these schools in which the German place great store. In every German town there is one school in which dairying is taught. When the children are 14 years old, if they have decided to become dairy farmers, they enter this school. The children are set at their work even at an earlier age for they must receive a preliminary training at a dairy before they enter the school. There was one pupil at the co-operative dairy preparing himself to enter the dairy school. It is not, of course, child labor, but simply vocational education carried on in connection with other school training. The efficiency of the German agriculturists and artisans is believed to rest largely upon this training, though from the American standpoint objection might be made to it on the ground that to train a child to manual labor from so early an age is apt to create classes within a country.

The importance of the co-operative credit societies in the development of other co-operative enterprises was made readily apparent to the Commissioners. The co-operative dairy owns its own land, but the building was erected on credit advanced by the local Raiffeisen society. Three and a half per cent interest is paid by the society upon all loans. The principal of the loans is paid back by amortization in small annual installments. On the dairy house this installment payment each year is 2 per cent of the amount of the loan. On the machinery it is 10 per cent, and on wagons 20 per cent. Higher payments on wagons and machinery are required because of depreciation in their value.

CRIME IN MARLBORO COUNTY

Negro Charged With Attempted Assault—Bloodhounds Used

Bennettsville, S. C., July 28.—A man entered the home of a respected white citizen of Brightsville Sunday night, and it is alleged attempted an assault upon a lady as she slept in her room. When the young lady awoke and called her father the man ran out at the back door of the house through which he had entered by breaking the lock. This occurred about 2 A. M. Deputy Sheriff Henry Hubbard received a 'phone message at the jail about 3 A. M. He immediately 'phoned to the penitentiary in Columbia for bloodhounds and Officer Robbins left with the dogs on an early Seaboard train.

They arrived here about 10 o'clock and left immediately for Brightsville. Sheriff Patterson, Deputy Hubbard, Rural Policeman T. C. Chavis and a large number of citizens from Brightsville, Bennettsville and other parts of the county joined in the hunt.

The dogs were put on the track and followed it for over a mile eastward toward Hubbard's creek. They lost the trail where a man apparently got into a buggy. Deputy Hubbard went to the house of Jake Rogers, colored, and as he approached, Wilson Rogers, Jake's son, asked, "Are you looking for me?" Wilson and two or three other negroes were turned loose and told to go to the creek.

The dogs crossed the trails of the negroes and followed Wilson till they caught him. He was then arrested and brought in an automobile to Bennettsville and put in jail about 2 o'clock. The negro denied all knowledge of the crime.

There is no excitement here and the accused will be given a fair trial.

Officer Robbins, with the same bloodhounds, helped to catch M. L. Garrett, the Lee county murderer, and Henry Austin, the negro who attempted an assault and killed several people in the lower part of the State.

COAST ARTILLERY MEET.

Will be at Southport August 5th for a Ten Days' Encampment.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., July 29.—The annual visit of the North Carolina coast artillery to Fort Caswell will begin on August 5th, and continue to August 16th. There will be five companies this year, the Newbern company having disbanded.

It is the programme for one company to come by the steamer Wilmington and three companies by special train, to arrive here in the morning of the 5th, while there will be a special car attached to the regular passenger train, due here at 4:45 P. M. The companies coming by rail will take the steamer Gen. Getty at the W. B. & S. Railroad pier, disembarking direct from the cars. The practice and drill at Fort Caswell will take in all that the regular service requires.

FINES WHOLESALE GROCERS

Judge Grubb Imposes Penalty of $2,500 for Contempt of Court

Birmingham, Ala., July 29.—Federal Judge Grubb today fined the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association $2,500 for contempt of court in violating a decree issued in 1911 commanding the organization to abide by Federal anti-trust laws. President J. H. McLaurin, of Jacksonville, Fla., was fined $1,000; H. Lacey Hunt, of Wilmington, N. C., and L. A. Melchers, of Charleston, S. C., were fined $1,000 each and the costs were assessed against the corporation and the three individual defendants according to costs of their respective witnesses.

The decree of 1911 prohibited any violations of the anti-trust law.

A suit was filed this year against the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association, its president and officers and many members but after the trial was on a few days all defendants were expurgated except those named in the decision by Judge Grubb.

Judge Grubb held that President McLaurin, in issuing a circular in October, 1911, that the decree of the court would not affect practices of the association, had committed a violation.

Washington, July 29.—Officials of the Department of Justice today declined to comment upon the action of Judge Grubb in imposing fines in the contempt case against the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association. This was the first contempt of court proceeding for a violation of a civil decree under the decree of the Sherman law. It was within the province of the court to impose jail sentences.

THE DELIGHT THAT PEARLY WHITE TEETH

cause is more frequent than many people suppose. Usually it is talked about in a quiet way, but you can always notice the distinct pleasure it gives to see attractive teeth.

When they present beauty of form and regularity, they usually serve their main purpose—thorough mastication. To restore both beauty as well as naturalness is easily done when they are not severely neglected.

It's economy in many ways to keep your real teeth.

One reason the pleasure of my operations is as enduring as teeth—the smallest details are given the attention that wins the confidence of critical people.

It's economy for you to call today.
